NEW FIGHTS LOOM OVER CIVIL RIGHTS

Time - Consuming Battle Is Averted by Hair-Line Decision as Leaders Map Strategy

IS BACK IN COMMITTEE

Washington, May 14—(AP)—A time-consuming battle over civil rights averted by a hair-line decision, senate Republican leaders gathered today to map strategy for new fights ahead.

The race issue showdown was put off until later in the session by a 38 to 37 vote decided in the final moments of a seven-day roll call. The vote sent back to committee a bill to give congressional approval to an educational compact drafted by 15 southern states.

Senators Holland (D-Fla.) and Russell (D-Ga.), leaders in the unsuccessful fight to keep the measure before the senate, said today the recommission action probably has killed for this year the plan to create a series of regional universities in the south.

The GOP policy committee session called for this morning by Chairman Taft of Ohio was confronted with at least two other highly controversial measures in addition to one next up for debate.

Pending before the senate today was a battle to cut at least $200,000 out of a $708,586,666 army civil fund bill.

Chairman Bridges (R-N.H.) of the appropriations committee was teamed with Senator Reed (R-Kan.) in an effort to slash the amount from funds earmarked by Bridges' committee flood control and rivers and harbors projects. Angry debate was expected to carry over into Monday before a decision.

Next on the list are two more controversies: 1. The hotly disputed plan for peacetime draft and military training to expand the regular armed services and reserves. This calls for two years service by men 19 through 25 years and one-year of voluntary training for 161,000 18-year-olds. Supporters have promised to try to attach a provision that would allow all enlisted men the right to request service in units of their own races.

2. The argument over admission of war refugees from Europe. The senate judiciary committee has recommended the admission of 100,000 displaced persons in the next two years under strict terms. Senators McGrath (D-R.I.) and Hatch (D-N.M.) want to boost this to 200,000 and liberalize the terms.

Power From North Korea Is Shut Off

Seoul, May 14—(AP)—Power from North Korea was shut off abruptly today after an American army sergeant was wounded superficially near the dividing line between the Russian and U. S. zones.

The sergeant was hit twice in the face, presumably by grenade splinters while riding in a jeep. A pre-dawn patrol did not find his assailants. His name was withheld.

There was no apparent connection between the two incidents. Seoul was only partially browned out tonight. Auxiliary power units were supplying enough power to keep all but a few non-essential lights burning. Trolleys continued to operate.

All police were on the alert for any new disorders.

Weary Wives Maintain Vigil At Entrance of Flooded Pit

Shamokin, May 14—(AP)—Three weary wives maintained a silent vigil at the entrance to a flooded mine shaft today as rescue workers struggled to reach a trio of miners trapped 175 feet below the surface by seeping rain water two days ago.

The efforts of rescue crews were spurred on by faint tapplings heard last night through the rock and coal wall of an adjoining shaft.

The three—Charles Bashore, 42, Edward Heck, 42, and Peter Gordon, 35, all of Shamokin were unable to escape to the surface when an unusually heavy rainstorm flooded the shaft they bought for independent operation just two weeks ago.

The shaft in which the men were working extends 220 feet downward at a 70 degree angle, with branching tunnels leading to overhead workings. It is believed

House Aims Legislative Gun At Communist Party With Plans to Act Within a Week

Washington, May 14—(AP)—The house aimed a legislative shotgun at the Communist party today and got set to pull the trigger. It probably won't fire until next week, when it expects to pass a bill making it a crime to try to set up a Communist dictatorship in this country.

The bill doesn't outlaw the Communist party. But it would crimp the party's operations and expose its members and activities.

The measure came before the house for debate today with: 1. A plea from Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) to take firm action to cope with "the foremost menace to democracy today."

2. A retort from Rep. Isaacson (AL-NY) that the bill repudiates the concept of progress and "regards America as a finished product, rigid and unchangeable."

Isaacson is one of the newest members of congress. He was elected from the Bronx earlier this year with the support of Third Party Presidential Candidate Henry A. Wallace.

Thomas is chairman of the house committee on Un-American Activities. The bill is the first legislative proposal ever drafted by that committee.

In its preamble, it asserts that an international Communist movement is conspiring to set up totalitarian dictatorships through organizations it controls in other countries.

The bill defines the American Communist party as one of these organizations. It says it shall be illegal to try in any way to set up a foreign-controlled "totalitarian dictatorship" in this country or to take part in a movement to create such a dictatorship.

Violators would face ten years in prison and a $10,000 fine and would lose their United States citizenship.

The effect of these provisions, said Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.), one of the bill's co-authors, would be to (Turn to Page Nine)

Widespread Manhunt Staged For Butler Jail Fugitive

Butler, May 14—(AP)—A widespread manhunt was underway today for a 20-year old former army paratrooper who escaped from the Butler county jail for the second time in a month.

Scores of state troopers pressed into the search for Clarence Zarnick of Butler. Roadblocks were established in some sections.

Sgt. Raymond Blythe of the State Police, said Zarnick's latest break occurred yesterday when he plunged head first through a window 20 feet above the jail kitchen.

"He took the sash with him and we don't know if he was injured," Sgt. Blythe said. The officer added that Zarnick apparently spung the lock of his cell in the kitchen while the jail turnkey was serving breakfast.

"The turnkey jumped at him but Zarnick was too fast for him and went right through the window," Sgt. Blythe said. "Zarnick's a clever fellow and apparently his paratrooper experience came in handy when he jumped because he must know how to land when he hits the ground."

On April 17 Zarnick and two companions, Ellsworth H. Buchanan and Thomas Manny, also from Butler, escaped by climbing through a ventilator to the roof. They were awaiting trial on burglary charges.

More than 50 officers were called into the search which resulted in capture of the three within a few days. Manny and Buchanan were apprehended near Cochran and Zarnick was arrested at Mercer while driving a car which had been reported stolen at Meadville.

Since their recapture, all three have been sentenced on several charges. Zarnick was under a 3-to-6-year sentence in Western Penitentiary and Buchanan and Manny were under an indeterminate sentence to the state industrial school.

Sgt. Blythe said all three were sentenced to face additional charges involving auto thefts. He added that in last month's escape the trio is believed to have stolen at least five autos. All were recovered.

"About 11:15 p. m. (CST) an estimated 200 men—some of them Cudahy workers on strike—entered the plant."

"First the main power switch was pulled, plunging the plant into darkness. Then a room where some of our men were sleeping was entered. Cots on which they rested were broken up and some windows smashed."

"Locks on some of the stock pens were broken and 110 hogs, valued at about $6,000 were set free."

"A new car belonging to one of the plant engineers was tipped over and the windows of one side and the windshield were broken."

"The plant boilers were turned off but apparently there was no serious damage done to them."

"Then about 30 of the 50 to 60 men who were on duty in the plant were herded into cars and taken away. (At 6 a. m. (CST) Swenson said all but 11 or 12 of the missing men had been accounted for."

13 Believed Dead In Crash Of Fortress

Frankfurt, Germany, May 14—(AP)—The United States Air Force said today a B-29 Superfortress has fallen 120 miles northwest of Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, and 13 persons may have been killed.

Nine bodies have been found, four persons are missing and only one survivor has turned up, said the announcement, issued at Wiesbaden. Names were withheld.

The plane apparently crashed Tuesday, the Air Force said, on the way back from Dhahran to the U. S. Superfortress base at Furstentfeld-Bruck, Germany. The big planes frequently make training flights between these two points.

A dispatch from Cairo last night reported the B-29 possibly missing, but an Air Force spokesman said at that time it was safe, though it had made an unscheduled landing at Malta.

Today a spokesman gave this explanation: The doomed B-29 left Dhahran Tuesday with another.

CONDON CASE FLARES ANEW IN CONGRESS

Lawmaker Challenges Attorney General to Back Up Hint of Stolen Loyalty Document

F. B. I. IS INVOLVED

Washington, May 14—(AP)—A lawmaker challenged Attorney General Clark today to back up with prosecution the cabinet officer's hint that a disputed loyalty document had been stolen.

The challenge came from Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.), acting chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, who also cracked back at Clark as "foggy-minded."

The Condon case thus flared into a new name-calling phase in the wake of house passage of a bill to compel executive agencies to bare their files to congress.

It was an FBI report bearing on the loyalty of Dr. Edward W. Condon, head of the Federal Bureau of Standards, that led the Un-American Activities Committee to press for enactment of the so-called "secrets" measure.

The committee had failed to pry loose from the commerce department the full text of an FBI letter it had quoted in part in terming Condon one of the weakest links in this country's atomic security.

Condon has insisted he is absolutely reliable, and has been backed up by his former and present boss—Secretaries of Commerce Harriman and Sawyer.

The committee claims it once was given permission to check the Condon files but that when its investigator started copying the FBI letter, the commerce department stopped him; hence only part of it was obtained.

Clark discussed the Condon case at a National Press Club luncheon yesterday. After saying he thinks he knows where the committee got hold of the FBI letter, the attorney general added:

"I never heard of somebody stealing something and then asking that someone else produce it."

McDowell suggested that if Clark really thinks someone stole the letter, he ought to prosecute Committee members, he said, "would be the first to agree to such action."

The committee, he added, will not permit stealing by any of its employees.

Clark defended President Truman's attitude in refusing to give the committee the Condon letter, now in the president's possession.

The attorney general said 11 other presidents dating back to George Washington, have rejected requests of congress for information.

The bill the house passed yesterday would compel every congressional-created executive agency to give congressional committees information they believe they need. Failure to produce could be punished by a fine of $1,000 or a prison sentence of one year.

The same penalties would apply to committee members and employees who divulge information once the committee declares it confidential.

And any executive official who, upon leaving office, takes with him official or state papers or files, could be jailed for a year and fined $1,000.

WESTINGHOUSE CUTS PRICES ON RADIOS

Sunbury, May 14—(AP)—Westinghouse today reduced prices from 13 to 20 per cent on five radio sets.

A table model with standard and frequency modulation bands was cut from $99.95 to $79.95. The reductions ranged up to $125 for a console set formerly selling for $225.

F. M. Sloan, manager of Westinghouse home radio division, said the price cuts were made possible by improved manufacturing methods.

Washington, May 14—(AP)—Pennsylvania's senators, Edward Martin (R) and Francis J. Myers (D.), voted with the majority yesterday in the Senate's action to send back to its judiciary committee a bill to give congressional sanction to a southern states education compact. The bill passed 88 to 37.

Both members of the plane's crew, Capt. P. A. Townsend and Radio Officer A. F. Freeman, also died in the crash.

Union Threatens Phone Strike

After meeting with federal mediators in Washington, John Muran, holding papers, president of the CIO Telephone Workers union, announced that company-union negotiations had collapsed. He said there "definitely will be a strike" by the union's 25,000 long line members unless the government intervenes. Pictured here with Muran and R. T. Crosey, sitting, vice-president, are members of the union negotiating committee, left to right, John Kennish, St. Louis; Caroline Miller, Cleveland; Carl Peters, Chicago; and Laquetta Emma, New York City.

Steelworkers Bar Commies From Holding Union Office

Boston, May 14—(AP)—The CIO's biggest union, the Steelworkers, today barred Communists from holding office.

The nearly 8,200 delegates changed the union constitution to keep Communists out of any local or international office and to prevent them from serving as delegates or as members of any committee.

The action came as the union's 14-man executive board pondered the major problem of whether they should sign non-Communist affidavits under the Taft-Hartley law. The major steel companies do not intend to make new wage contracts with the union, if it does not comply, President Philip Murray said yesterday.

Only one of two delegates today opposed the constitutional change to bar Communists from union office.

Robert Ratner of Los Angeles asked: "Who is going to be judge of who is a Communist?"

The opposition was swept away, however, by a number of delegates who blasted, "Crummy Commies" and "Agents of the Kremlin."

James McCoy, Jr., of Coraopolis, Pa., said he wished it were possible to bar Communists from union membership. The anti-Communist shop provision of the Taft-Hartley law, however, forbids non-hiring of a person because of non-membership in a union.

Delegate Nick Migas, whose charge the Steelworkers' leaders had influenced our union to go easy on beefs in the mills," was followed by a street brawl yesterday, was absent from today's session. Migas said he was kept away by injuries. A fellow-delegate declared today that Migas' verbal attack was Communist-inspired.

Besides his attack on the union leadership, Migas called in a signed statement yesterday for a 25 cents an hour pay increase, forthwith.

The vital, policy-making decision on the question of compliance with the Taft-Hartley law non-Communist affidavit requirement was turned over to the executive board by the convention delegates who represent 928,000 steelworkers.

President Murray described the board's task as an "enormous determination."

Murray named U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Inland, Wheeling and Allegheny as the companies who have informed him they do not intend to negotiate new contracts until the union files the affidavits.

Eleven different civic and business organizations were represented at the meeting, and all except (Turn to Page Nine)

BRITISH HIGH COMMISSIONER ENDS HECTIC 31-YEAR RULE BY LEAVING PALESTINE SOIL

Tel Aviv, Palestine, May 14—(AP)—The State of Israel, first Hebrew nation in 2,000 years, was born today in a Jewish declaration of independence asserting the "historic right" of the Jews of Palestine to reconstitute their national home.

The proclamation by the National Council is effective at one minute after midnight, when Britain's 31-year rule of the Holy Land ends. The British High Commissioner already has left Palestine for a British cruiser, and the British mandate government has left the Holy city of Jerusalem.

While Jewish forces and soldiers of the surrounding Arab countries prepared for war, the Jews proclaimed their "right to a life of dignity, freedom and labor." They declared this right was recognized by the United Nations.

Cunningham drove out of Jerusalem early this morning while a solitary bagpiper scurried a Scottish lament. With him went the last of Britain's long mandatory rule of the Holy City.

A company of Highland light infantry was drawn up in the spacious government gardens. The high commissioner solemnly shook hands with his officers and entered his armor-plated car for the drive to Kollindia Airport, six miles away. With him was Maj. Richard Chichester, his aide-de-camp since Cunningham's appointment as high commissioner.

Cunningham's twin-engine Royal Air Force Anson, escorted by Spitfires and Lancasters, arrived in Haifa shortly afterward. His route to the dock was guarded carefully. No crowds lined the way.

The dock area was lined with Comet tanks. Near the gates about 70 curious onlookers watched the high commissioner pass by to the wall of the pipes of Irish guards. Briefly Sir Alan inspected the honor guard on the dock. Then he stepped aboard a launch to go to the cruiser.

Lt. Gen. Gordon MacMillan, general officer commanding British Palestine forces, left Jerusalem by plane after Cunningham's departure.

He will set up headquarters at Haifa to direct the evacuation of remaining British troops, who are to be out of the Holy Land completely by Aug. 1 under London's plans.

Finally, a plane carrying British civil officials left the Holy City. Aboard were Palestine Chief Secretary Sir Henry Gurney, Chief Justice Sir William Fitzgerald, Political Under-Secretary B. Foxstrangways, Attorney General L. B. Gibson, Public Information Officer Richard Stubbs and others of the secretariat.

Palestine was administered by Britain under a mandate of the League of Nations effective Sept. 29, 1923. A part of the Turkish empire before World War I, it was occupied by the British in 1917. It was under military rule until 1920 when the British set up a civil administration.

The Arab League has announced its intention of proclaiming Arab administration—not a state—in Palestine to function with whatever Arab troops may occupy it.

The Jews are expected to rush arrangements to bring in from Cyprus some 24,000 immigrants who were detained there by the British after attempting to enter Palestine without visas. There have been reports in London of tentative British plan to transport the Cyprus refugees to Palestine some time after the surrender of the mandate. This would be done, the reports said, under arrangements with the Jewish agency.

The Arab League, meanwhile, planned to set up an administrative body without their own in Palestine to function with occupying Arab forces if and when Palestine is invaded.

(In London the Arab office declared the termination of the British mandate had created a disastrous situation in the Holy Land, but "will at least give the Arabs the opportunity which they have never had until now of resisting the invaders face to face and to the intervention of a foreign power which has hitherto given them its protection.")

(The general secretariat of the Arab League has proclaimed a state of war existing with Palestine Jewry.)

As the Jewish state was born, the Arabs wailed their frustration. Palestine, Arab, Jewish and Jewish sources condemned that Arab Legionnaires, supported by 2,000 tribesmen from the Hebron hills, wiped out four Jewish colonies in the Kfar Etzion bloc south of Jerusalem, at the Arab invasion route from the south.

The informants said 200 Jews died in the battle, which ended last night. A number of prisoners were taken, including four physicians who were parachuted to aid the wounded yesterday.

The Jewish Agency, declaring the Arabs had killed prisoners of war despite promises of adherence to the Geneva Convention, urged the United Nations to intervene last night to intervene in the battle.

The battle for the Bab El Wad Gorge, lifeline Jewish link between Tel Aviv and Jerusalem, raged unabated.

In the uniform of a general of the British Army, High Commissioner Sir Alan Gordon Cunningham moved to the cruiser Euryalus, lying off Haifa, while bagpipes wailed the doleful strains of "The Minstrel Boy."

An honor guard of the king's company of guards and Royal Marine Commandos snapped to attention as the high commissioner stepped aboard the ship.

"The Turnkey jumped at him but Zarnick was too fast for him and went right through the window," Sgt. Blythe said. "Zarnick's a clever fellow and apparently his paratrooper experience came in handy when he jumped because he must know how to land when he hits the ground."

On April 17 Zarnick and two companions, Ellsworth H. Buchanan and Thomas Manny, also from Butler, escaped by climbing through a ventilator to the roof. They were awaiting trial on burglary charges.

More than 50 officers were called into the search which resulted in capture of the three within a few days. Manny and Buchanan were apprehended near Cochran and Zarnick was arrested at Mercer while driving a car which had been reported stolen at Meadville.

Since their recapture, all three have been sentenced several charges. Zarnick was under a 3-to-6-year sentence in Western Penitentiary and Buchanan and Manny were under an indeterminate sentence to the state industrial school.

Sgt. Blythe said all three were scheduled to face additional charges involving auto thefts. He added that in last month's escape the trio is believed to have stolen at least five autos. All were recovered.

13 Believed Dead In Crash Of Fortress

Frankfurt, Germany, May 14—(AP)—The United States Air Force said today a B-29 Superfortress has fallen 120 miles northwest of Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, and 13 persons may have been killed.

Nine bodies are missing and only one survivor has turned up, said the announcement, issued at Wiesbaden. Names were withheld.

The plane apparently crashed Tuesday, the Air Force said, on the way back from Dhahran to the U. S. Superfortress base at Puerstfeld-Bruck, Germany. The big planes frequently make training flights between these two points.

A dispatch from Cairo last night reported the B-29 possibly missing, said an Air Force spokesman at that time it was safe, though it had made an unscheduled landing at Malta.

Today a spokesman gave this explanation: The doomed B-29 left Dhahran Tuesday with another.

CONDON CASE FLARES ANEW IN CONGRESS

Lawmaker Challenges Attorney General to Back Up Hint of Stolen Loyalty Document

F. B. I. IS INVOLVED

Washington, May 14—(AP)—A lawmaker challenged Attorney General Clark today to back up with prosecution the cabinet officer's hint that a disputed loyalty document had been stolen.

The challenge came from Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.), acting chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, who also cracked back at Clark as "foggy-minded."

The Condon case thus flared into a new name-calling phase in the wake of house passage of a bill to compel executive agencies to bare their files to congress.

It was an FBI report bearing on the loyalty of Dr. Edward U. Condon, head of the Federal Bureau of Standards, that led the Un-American Activities Committee to press for enactment of the so-called "secrets" measure.

The committee had failed to pry loose from the commerce department the full text of an FBI letter it had quoted in part in terminating Condon one of the weakest links in this country's atomic security.

Condon has insisted he is absolutely reliable, and has been backed up by both his former and present boss—Secretaries of Commerce Harman and Sawyer.

The committee claims it once was given permission to check the Condon files but that when its investigator started copying the FBI letter, the commerce department stopped him; hence only part of it was obtained.

Clark discussed the Condon case at a National Press Club luncheon yesterday. After saying he thinks he knows where the committee got hold of the FBI letter, the attorney general added:

"I never heard of somebody stealing something and then asking that someone else produce it."

McDowell suggested that if Clark really thinks someone stole the letter, he ought to prosecute. Committee members, he said, "would be the first to agree to such action."

The committee, he added, will not permit stealing by any of its employees.

Clark defended President Truman's attitude in refusing to give the committee the Condon letter, now in the president's possession. The attorney general said 11 other presidents, dating back to George Washington, have rejected requests of congress for information.

The bill the house passed yesterday would compel every congressionally-created executive agency to give congressional committee information they believe they need. Failure to produce could be punished by a fine of $1,000 and a prison sentence of one year.

The same penalties would apply to committee members and employees who divulge information once the committee declares it confidential.

And any executive official who, upon leaving office, takes with him official or state papers or files, could be jailed for a year and fined $1,000.

WESTINGHOUSE CUTS PRICES ON RADIOS

Sunbury, May 14—(AP)—Westinghouse today reduced prices from 13 to 20 per cent on five radio sets.

A table model with standard and frequency modulation bands was cut from $99.95 to $79.95. The reductions ranged up to $125 for a console set formerly selling for $625.

F. M. Sloan, manager of Westinghouse home radio division, said the price cuts were made possible by improved manufacturing methods.

Glen E. Stone, newly appointed chairman of Warren county's Security Loan Campaign, announced today that citizens of this county are asked to raise $600,000 for the treasury of the United States during the current bond drive ending June 30th. Of this amount, $360,000 worth of the popular "E" Savings Bonds must be purchased by local individuals and the balance of $240,000, is assigned to "F" and "G" bonds which are available to organizations and institutions as well as to individual investors.

Mr. Stone pointed out that this quota represents an increase of about 40% over Warren county's normal monthly purchases, just about the national average increase expected during the drive county.

He declared that the county should be able to attain these goals if the public generally realizes the unique advantages of bonds as a means of safe and highly profitable savings, and the importance of this campaign to the present and future security of the nation. He promised that his committee will do whatever is necessary to maintain Warren county's excellent wartime record and keep it an outstanding one among the 19 counties in the western Pennsylvania region, and said that a comprehensive promotional program would probably be swung into action to enlist wholehearted cooperation of every individual and organization in the entire county.

Union Threatens Phone Strike

After meeting with federal mediators in Washington, John Moran, holding papers, president of the CIO Telephone Workers union, announced that company-union negotiations had collapsed. He said there "definitely will be a strike" by the union's 25,000 long line members unless the government intervenes. Pictured here with Moran and R. T. Creasey, sitting, vice-president, are members of the union negotiating committee, left to right, John Kennish, St. Louis; Caroline Miller, Cleveland; Carl Peters, Chicago; and Lauretta Emma, New York City.

Steelworkers Bar Commies From Holding Union Office

Boston, May 14—(AP)—The CIO's biggest union, the Steelworkers, today barred Communists from holding office.

The nearly 3,200 delegates changed the union constitution to keep Communists out of any local or international office and to prevent them from serving as delegates or as members of any committee.

The action came as the union's 14-man executive board pondered the major problem of whether they should sign non-Communist affidavits under the Taft-Hartley law. The major steel companies do not intend to make new wage contracts with the union, if it does not comply, President Philip Murray said yesterday.

Only one or two delegates today opposed the constitutional change to bar Communists from union offices.

Robert Rainer of Los Angeles asked: "Who is going to be judge of who is a Communist?"

The opposition was swept away, however, by a number of delegates who blasted, "Crummy Commies" and "Agents of the Kremlin."

James McCoy, Jr., of Coraopolis, Pa., said he wished it were possible to bar Communists from union membership. The anti-closed shop provision of the Taft-Hartley law, however, forbids non-hiring of a person because of non-membership in a union.

Delegate Nick Migas, whose charge the Steelworkers' leaders had "influenced our union to go easy on beefs in the mills," was followed by a street brawl yesterday, was absent from today's session. Migas said he was kept away by injuries. A fellow-delegate declared today that Migas' verbal attack was Communist-inspired. Besides his attack on the union leadership, Migas called in a signed statement yesterday for a 25 cents an hour pay increase, forthwith.

The vital, policy-making decision on the question of compliance with the Taft-Hartley law non-Communist affidavit requirement was turned over to the executive board by the convention delegates who represent 928,000 steelworkers. President Murray described the board's task as an "enormous determination."

Murray named U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Inland, Wheeling and Allegheny as the companies who have informed him they do not intend to negotiate new contracts until the union files the affidavits.

Eleven different civic and business organizations were represented at the meeting, and all ex-

Socialite Victim Of Plane Crash

London, May 14—(AP)—Skyways Limited announced today that Kathleen Lady Hartington, and Lord Fitzwilliam were killed last night in a plane crash in southern France.

Lady Hartington was the daughter of Joseph P. Kennedy, former U. S. ambassador to Great Britain, and the widow of the Marquis of Hartington, who was killed in action during the war.

Sir Drummond Inglis, a director of the Skyward firm, which owned the chartered plane, made the official announcement at noon.

He said both members of the plane's crew, Capt. F. A. Townsend, also died in the crash.

Lord Fitzwilliam, the eighth earl in his line, acceded to his title in 1943. Skyways said earlier that he had chartered the plane.

Skyways said Lady Hartington and Lord Fitzwilliam were the only passengers.

Lady Hartington was 28. Her friend the earl, 37, had chartered the plane. He was a captain of the Grenadier Guards and a prominent race horse owner and breeder.

Lady Hartington, pretty and vivacious, was a sister of U. S. Rep. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.). Her death completed a trilogy of tragedy for a wealthy and socially prominent Boston family.

BRITISH HIGH COMMISSIONER ENDS HECTIC 31-YEAR RULE BY LEAVING PALESTINE SOIL

Tel Aviv, Palestine, May 14—(AP)—The State of Israel, first Hebrew nation in 2,000 years, was born today in a Jewish declaration of independence asserting the "historic right" of the Jews of Palestine to reconstitute their national home.

The proclamation by the National Council is effective at one minute after midnight, when Britain's 31-year rule of the Holy Land ends. The British High Commissioner already has left Palestine soil for a British cruiser, and the British mandate government has left the Holy city of Jerusalem.

While Jewish forces and soldiers of the surrounding Arab countries prepared for war, the Jews proclaimed their "right to a life of dignity, freedom and labor." They declared this right was recognized by the United Nations.

Cunningham drove out of Jerusalem early this morning while a solitary bagpiper skirled a Scottish lament. With him went the last of Britain's long mandatory rule of the Holy City.

A company of Highland light infantry was drawn up in the spacioust government gardens. The high commissioner, solemnly, shook hands with his officers and entered his armor-plated car for the drive to Kollandia Airport, six miles away. With him was Maj. Richard Chichester, his aide-de-camp since Cunningham's appointment as high commissioner.

Cunningham's twin-engine Royal Air Force Anson, escorted by spitfires and Lancasters, arrived in Haifa shortly afterward. His route to the dock was guarded carefully. No crowds lined the way.

The dock area was lined with Comet tanks. Near the gates about 300 curious onlookers watched the high commissioner pass by to the wall of the pipes of Irish guards. Briefly, Sir Alan inspected the honor guard on the dock. Then he stepped aboard a launch to go to the cruiser.

Lt. Gen. Gordon MacMillan, general officer commanding British Palestine forces, left Jerusalem by plane after Cunningham's departure.

He will set up headquarters at Haifa to direct the evacuation of remaining British troops, who are to be out of the Holy Land completely by Aug. 1 under London's plans.

Finally, a plane carrying British officials left the Holy City. Aboard were Palestine Chief Secretary Sir Henry Gurney, Chief Justice Sir William Fitzgerald, Foreign Under-Secretary B. Foxstrangways, Attorney General L. B. Gibson, Public Information Officer Richard Stubbs and others of the secretariat.

Palestine was administered by Britain under a mandate of the League of Nations effective Sept. 29, 1923. A part of the Turkish empire before World War I, it was occupied by the British in 1917. It was under military rule until 1920 when the British set up a civil administration.

The Arab League has announced its intention of proclaiming an Arab administration—not a state—in Palestine to function with whatever Arab troops may occupy it.

The Jews are expected to rush arrangements to bring in from Cyprus some 24,000 immigrants who were detained there by the British after attempting to enter Palestine without visas. There have been reports in London of a tentative British plan to transport the Cyprus refugees to Palestine some time after the summer of the mandate. "This would be done," the reports said, under arrangements with the Jewish agency.

The Arab League, meanwhile, planned to set up an administration—not a state—of their own in Palestine to function with occupying Arab forces if and when Palestine is invaded.

(In London the Arab office declared the termination of the British mandate had created a disastrous situation in the Holy Land, but "will at least give the Arabs the opportunity which they have never had until now of resisting the invaders face to face and without the intervention of a foreign power which has hitherto given them its protection.")

(The general secretariat of the Arab League has proclaimed a state of war existing with Palestine Jewry.)

As the Jewish state was born, the Arabs wrested their first real victory in Palestine. Arab, Bedouin and Jewish sources confirmed that Arab Legionnaires, supported by 2,000 tribesmen from the Hebron hills, wiped out four Jewish colonies in the Kfar Etzion bloc south of Jerusalem, thwarting the Arab invasion route from the south.

The informants said 200 Jews died in the battle, which ended last night. A number of prisoners were taken, including four physicians who were parachuted to aid the wounded yesterday.

The Jewish Agency, declaring the Arabs had killed prisoners of war despite promises of adherence to international law, had urged the United Nations truce commission last night to intervene in the battle.

The battle for the Bab El Wad Gorge, lifeline Jewish link between Tel Aviv and Jerusalem, raged unabated.

In the uniform of a general of the British Army, High Commissioner Sir Alan Gordon Cunningham moved to the cruiser Euryalus, lying off Haifa, while bagpipers wailed the doleful strains of "The Minstrel Boy."

An honor guard of the king's company of guards and Royal Marine Commandos strapped to attention. A 17-gun salute sounded. Royal Airforce Spitfires whirled overhead.

The high commissioner leaves at (Turn to Page Nine)

Plans Completed For Two Tag Days For Cancer Fund

Today and tomorrow are the special Cancer Fund Tag Days in Warren and at four o'clock this afternoon about 30 members of the popular PAK organization took to the streets, armed with Cancer Fund tags and coin collection cans.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has set up headquarters in the West Penn Oil Company building, corner of Liberty street and Third avenue, and tag salesmen will work from there until nine o'clock this evening. Saturday sales will conclude at five in the afternoon.

To aid in the event's promotion, the public address system used by the Warren Red Jackets has been loaned to the Jaycees by Pete Fanartis. The sound equipment has been rigged on WNAE's truck by Engineer Homer Haines and the vehicle will cruise the town today and tomorrow.

Every person in the community is urged to buy a tag today and help to conquer cancer. It is hoped that contributors will not limit their donations to a dime but will fill the cans with quarters, halves and even dollars. This is the last big push to put the cancer campaign in Warren over the top.

Driver Education In Schools Urged By Officials of P. M. F.

Driver Education and Training in the high schools of the Commonwealth will provide the only solution possible to bring about a reduction in increased insurance rates recently approved by the State Insurance Department, R. B. Maxwell, secretary-manager of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, declared today.

"A new classification was established to provide higher rates on cars operated by drivers under 25 after the department studied statistics showing an unfavorable traffic accident and death toll involving under-age drivers," Mr. Maxwell said. "This fact in itself is all the evidence necessary to show the great need for the proper training of our young drivers."

He pointed out that figures released by Insurance Commissioner James F. Malone, Jr., show that there were 61,500 more drivers under the age of 25 throughout the nation involved in death and injury accidents in 1947 than there were in 1946, explaining that "although numbering less than 20 per cent of the nation's drivers, operators in this age group accounted for more than an estimated 25 per cent of all automobile accidents in 1947."

"Long pioneers in a movement to have driver education and training adopted in the high schools of the commonwealth," Mr. Maxwell said that officials of the 60 AAA automobile clubs stand ready and willing to assist school officials in adopting such a program. "While progress is being made in the state in the inauguration of driver training programs in the schools through the efforts of AAA automobile clubs affiliated with the Federation," he said there remains much room for improvement.

Driver Education In Schools Urged By Officials of P. M. F.

Driver Education and Training in the high schools of the Commonwealth will provide the only solution possible to bring about a reduction in increased insurance rates recently approved by the State Insurance Department, R. B. Maxwell, secretary-manager of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, declared today.

"A new classification was established to provide higher rates on cars operated by drivers under 25 after the department studied statistics showing an unfavorable traffic accident and death toll involving under-age drivers," Mr. Maxwell said. "This fact in itself is all the evidence necessary to show the great need for the proper training of our young drivers."

He pointed out that figures released by Insurance Commissioner James F. Malone, Jr., show that there were 61,500 more drivers under the age of 25 throughout the nation involved in death and injury accidents in 1947 than there were in 1946, explaining that "although numbering less than 20 per cent of the nation's drivers, operators in this age group accounted for more than an estimated 25 per cent of all automobile accidents in 1947."

"Long pioneers in a movement to have driver education and training adopted in the high schools of the commonwealth," Mr. Maxwell said, "that officials of the AAA automobile clubs stand ready and willing to assist school officials in adopting such a program."

"While progress is being made in the state in the inauguration of driver training programs in the schools through the efforts of AAA automobile clubs affiliated with the Federation," he said, "there remains much room for improvement."

Jehovah's Witnesses Holding Convention

The Watchtower Society is sponsoring a convention of Jehovah's Witnesses in Warren this week-end, the opening session being at 3 p. m. today in the S. F. of A. hall, 312 Second avenue.

"Only when all the high schools in the state adopt driver training programs can we hope to see an improvement in the driving record of those under 25 years of age," Mr. Maxwell concluded, reporting that Pennsylvania now has 122 dual control cars in use in high schools and over 400 schools conduct classroom instruction in this tremendously important field of safety.

Chamber of Commerce At Tidoute Enjoys a Dinner

(Contributed)

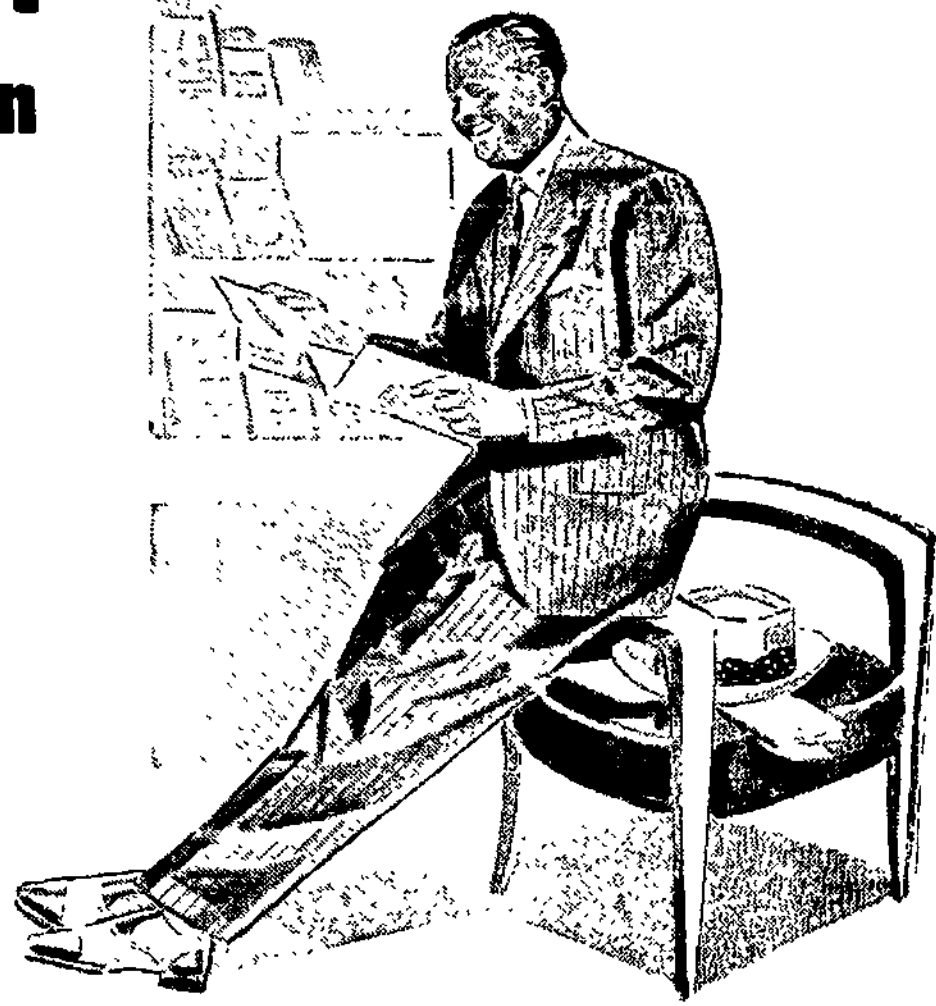

On Monday evening, May 10, at 6:30 p. m. dinner was served at the Blue and White Restaurant at Tidoute to forty members of the local Chamber of Commerce. Following the dinner a very interesting program was presented and enjoyed by those present. First on the list of speakers was Rev. Louis Swanson from Manchester, N. H., who has made his home away from us here, for the past 43 years and came back to talk at our meeting, giving the group a very interesting discourse on just how New Hampshire boosts its state and we were glad to hear him say our local Chamber of Commerce seemed to be very much alive towards boosting our local assets towards a goal we are striving for, namely, to bring industry, sportsmen and tourists to our fair Allegheny River Village.

Next on the program was Father Bonetski of the Sheffield, Pa., Chamber of Commerce and now acting as their president, who gave the organization a lift with his remarks that he came as a guest and to observe the workings of our club, so he could carry back to his local organization some new ideas to help them off to a good start up in Sheffield, which has just recently started their local club up under his leadership. He paid tribute to our local chamber for inviting and having present in a goodly number our local business women and wives of our local members, who in this day and age do take an active part in local, state and national happenings of our United States, and are needed in our business world as a balance wheel, in our home, school and industry. Father Bonetski's talk was very much appreciated and enjoyed.

Next, our President John P. Sage introduced the principal speaker of the evening, Allen Gibson, Warren county resident and assemblyman from our local district, who kindly consented to come down here from his home in Sheffield to give us some interesting high lights on our state as to our home, school, industry, state government, just how they function, and are financed, etc. Most of interest to the local Chamber of Commerce were his figures on taxes, just where they went, why they had to be imposed and results stated pro and con as to our tax structure and what must be done in the future to secure new industry in our state and local areas by reducing some taxes, still

Erie Doctors Set Plans To Answer Calls

Erie, May 14—Plans for referral bureaus to be established at two local hospitals to handle emergency medical calls at night are nearing completion and the system is expected to become effective shortly.

Call stations will be set up at both St. Vincent's and Hamot Hospitals, where a list of doctors who volunteer to make night calls will be available.

The list of Erie physicians, who will be available for night duty, is currently being drawn up.

According to present plans, doctors volunteering for night calls will receive compensation from patients who will afterward turn to their regular doctors, but the family doctors will be responsible for paying the emergency man.

A severe reprimand from Dr. Wilbur E. Flannery, New Castle, resulted in the inauguration of the plan it was learned. Dr. Flannery warned that local doctors would find themselves facing a disgruntled public unless they cooperate in handling night calls.

Grads May Choose Radio Mechanic Course

T/Sgt. Anthony Mattys of the local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Office in the Post Office Building, announced today that High School Graduates may apply for entrance to an Air Force Radio Mechanic Technical school, before enlisting in the U. S. Air Force. If accepted, the applicant will be assured of attending the school after enlisting or reenlisting in the U. S. Air Force.

The title of the course is Radio Mechanic and is of 26 weeks duration. Students are given a basic course in the maintenance of Air Force airborne and ground radio equipment. Covers the operation, functioning, adjustment, maintenance, inspection, and trouble shooting of this equipment.

Full information and applications are available at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Office in Room 207, Post Office Building, Warren, Pa. Those unable to visit the office, may phone 2670 and arrange for an interview at home.

TALKS WITH STALIN

When people get together in a discussion of the world situation these days, one of them is pretty sure to say, before it is over, "Truman and Stalin ought to sit down and thrash this thing out"—or words to that effect.

Several writers, including James Thrasher, of the NEA staff, have made the same suggestion. Henry Wallace has intimated that if he were President, that's what he would do. Speaker Martin has volunteered to meet Premier Stalin and talk things over as one Joe to another.

One of the innumerable questions fired at General Eisenhower recently was whether he would take such an assignment. He wisely answered that no one less than the President, authorized to speak for the people of the United States, should attempt such a conference.

And there are Washington correspondents who have said with assurance—though without offering proof—that Mr. Truman turned down an offer from Mr. Stalin for a meeting in Stockholm last winter. There is, as we said, no proof that such an offer was made and refused. But if that were the case, we should say that Mr. Truman acted wisely, and for two reasons.

First, we would have had at that time no existing or assembling military strength to back up an insistence on the status quo, or to enforce the demand for a reasonable compromise. We do not have such strength now, though there are signs that we may regain it. And Mr. Stalin obviously is not the sort to be turned aside by moral indignation or appeals to sportsmanship and his better nature.

Second, Mr. Stalin and his government cannot be trusted to carry out an agreement, even though the Soviet dictator might be bland and agreeable with Mr. Truman, as he often is with American visitors. That may sound pessimistic and cynical, but the record is there.

It used to be said during the war, when people were looking for all the nice things to be said for our Russian allies, that the Soviet government had never broken a military agreement. That statement seems to hold good today—but only as regards military pledges.

The Russian government has broken diplomatic pledges given at Yalta and Potsdam. It has met protests with argument, evasion and delay and, if all else failed, with silence.

It would be folly to assume that the Soviet government does not have a plan of action, peaceful and otherwise, for every continent on earth. The evidence is too strong to the contrary. It would be equal folly to trust that Premier Stalin would abandon that plan because of mere arguments or appeals.

Chamberlain sat down and talked things over with Hitler at Berchtesgaden. Chamberlain and Daladier talked things over again with Hitler at Munich. Hitler made a mockery of his pledges in both cases. If, as Winston Churchill points out, the two men had confronted Hitler with the strength that their aroused, alert and prepared nations might have given them, the story would probably have been different.

America and free Europe love peace and want peace even more than England and France did in 1938, for they have just come through a war whose horror and destruction make World War I seem pale in comparison. But America is wise enough now to take steps to avoid the mistakes of the complacent Thirties.

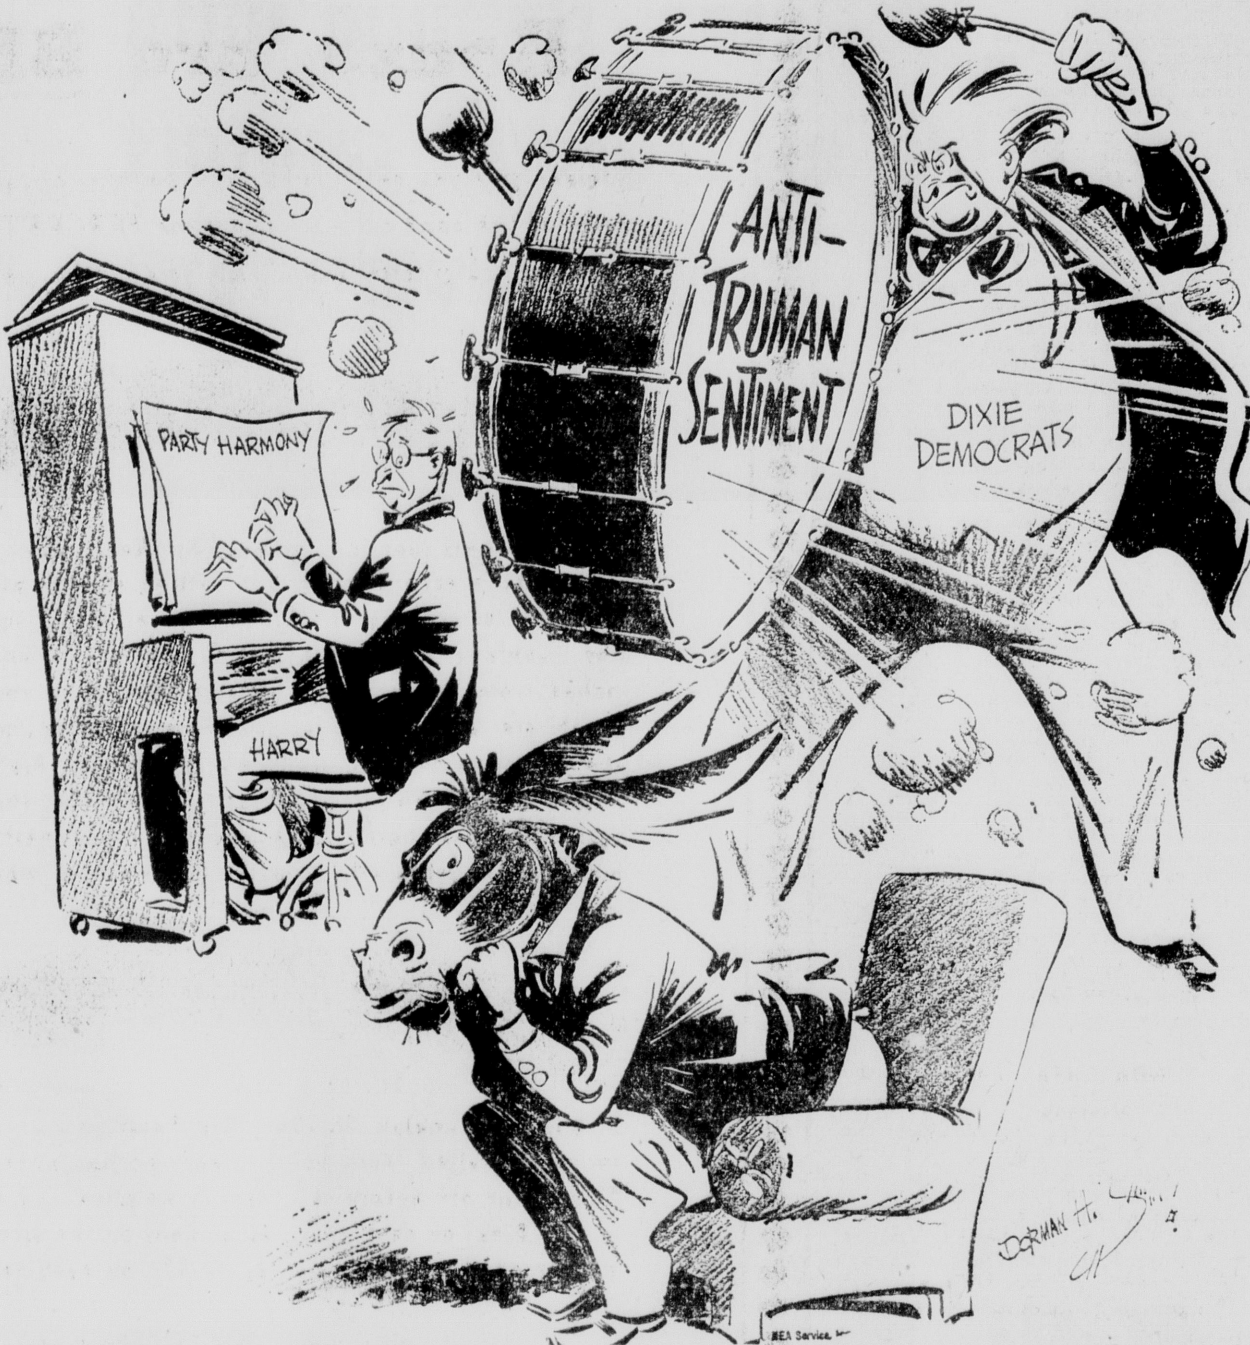

When, through expenditure and sacrifice, we have grown strong enough to make the architects of imperialistic communism pause and consider, then it will be time for the President of the United States to meet the Premier of Soviet Russia and arrange the truce that will be the prelude to disarmament and world peace.

GOT YOUR TAG YET?

Now is the Hour—and we do mean NOW—if we are going to help the Jaycees put over those Cancer Fund Tag Days arranged for this weekend. Members of PAK will be out on the streets of the East Side and downtown business sections this evening and all day tomorrow with their special coin containers and Cancer Fund tags and we'd like to suggest that every individual approached take seriously the admonition that one out of every ten persons will die of cancer before the next year ends.

If you have attended one of the two previous Warren-Bradford Band exchange concerts, you will not fail to be in the audience this evening when the Owls and Dragons present their third annual concert in Beatty school gym. This exchange has done much to increase the friendship between the two school districts and Directors Harry Summers and Rodney Schoch are to be highly commended for their efforts.

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
Further elucidation of the American bid for "decent and reasonable" relations with Russia shows that Washington didn't propose any conference but merely restated American policy and added that the door is always open for discussions.

In short, if the Russians have any special proposals there can be discussions between the two governments. However, highly placed American officials say that if the Muscovites have no proposals, there seems to be no ground for conversations.

President Truman himself took a hand in the clarification yesterday. He said the statement made to Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov by American Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith represented no departure in American policy. The present international policies will be vigorously and firmly prosecuted. On the other hand, America wants to make it unmistakably clear that she has no hostile designs with respect to Russia.

Now this doesn't mean that the United States wouldn't be pleased to have Moscow initiate conversations, for she would. Still it is well that the matter be cleared up lest anybody get the wrong notion that America is hitting the appeasement trail. Furthermore, European nations are watching this development eagerly and some show an inclination to be over-optimistic.

Since Molotov has chosen to construe the American move as an invitation, it is possible that a meeting of some sort might develop. Apropos of this, there appears to be no thought in Washington that it might be staged between President Truman and Marshal Stalin, although the former has said he would be glad to see the generalissimo in America.

The value of such a conference is, of course, problematical. It might have the virtue of further clarifying the positions of the two governments. Still it must be said that the post-war allied conferences in Europe not only haven't helped matters but have made them worse.

The only thing which would help relations between the Democracies and Russia very much would be Soviet abandonment of a policy of world revolution for the spread of Communism. That is the crux of the whole trouble. So long as the Muscovites are bent on jamming the Redism down the unwilling throats of all nations, there can be no peace.

The United States government in effect recognized that thesis by withholding recognition from the new Soviet government for 16 years—until 1933. America wouldn't stand the Bolshevik propaganda. Britain had similar difficulties. Finally F.D.R. accorded recognition when Moscow promised to stop pushing Communism in this country.

However, Moscow didn't stop pushing world revolution. Finally along came World War II and created exactly the conditions the Soviet needed to further its crusade. Since then the Bolsheviks have boldly pushed their aggression in Europe and Asia and the western hemisphere. Only yesterday the U. S. house of representatives committee on un-American affairs formally accused the Communist party in this country of advocating "the overthrow of our government by force and violence."

Considering all these things do you believe for one moment that Russia is prepared to abandon its world revolution? Of course you don't. Such a supposition would be absurd. And on that basis any American - Russian conference couldn't get very far toward settling their main differences.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

At the annual indoor contest between troops in Warren county held at the high school gym Thursday evening, Troop No. 36, of Sheffield, finished with the greatest number of points and was presented the commissioner's flag. They will carry the flag at the head of all parades for one year.

A large number of attorneys from Warren and vicinity appeared before a representative of the public service commission sitting at the court house Thursday for the purpose of hearing applications for the renewal of certificates of public convenience, i.e. buses.

This morning, thirty-seven days after he lost his life when his motor boat capsized on Lake Chautauque, the body of Milton J. Beatty, well known Warren citizen, was found floating in the water there.

The body found in the Allegheny river at Pennsylvania House Tuesday evening, was positively identified this morning as the boy who had disappeared from his Starbuck home following a fishing trip.

Warren's first zoning ordinance, prohibiting the erection of service stations and public garages in certain streets of the borough, passed on third and final reading at a special meeting of the borough council in the municipal building last night by a vote of 16 to 2.

The Warren Chess Club realized its major ambition last evening when it defeated the Jamestown Chess Club 5½ to 4½ at the Nordic Temple.

Everything is in readiness for the local observance of National Hospital Day tomorrow at the Warren General Hospital. It was stated this morning by Superintendent A. M. Lopez, Highlights of the day will be the "open house" from two to five and the "free baby" award.

TALKS WITH STALIN

When people get together in a discussion of the world situation these days, one of them is pretty sure to say, before it is over, "Truman and Stalin ought to sit down and thrash this thing out"—or words to that effect.

Several writers, including James Thrasher, of the NEA staff, have made the same suggestion. Henry Wallace has intimated that if he were President, that's what he would do. Speaker Martin has volunteered to meet Premier Stalin and talk things over as one Joe to another.

One of the innumerable questions fired at General Eisenhower recently was whether he would take such an assignment. He wisely answered that no one less than the President, authorized to speak for the people of the United States, should attempt such a conference.

And there are Washington correspondents who have said with assurance—though without offering proof—that Mr. Truman turned down an offer from Mr. Stalin for a meeting in Stockholm last winter. There is, as we said, no proof that such an offer was made and refused. But if that were the case, we should say that Mr. Truman acted wisely, and for two reasons.

First, we would have had at that time no existing or assembling military strength to back up an insistence on the status quo, or to enforce the demand for a reasonable compromise. We do not have such strength now, though there are signs that we may regain it. And Mr. Stalin obviously is not the sort to be turned aside by moral indignation or appeals to sportsmanship and his better nature.

Second, Mr. Stalin and his government cannot be trusted to carry out an agreement, even though the Soviet dictator might be bland and agreeable with Mr. Truman, as he often is with American visitors. That may sound pessimistic and cynical, but the record is there.

It used to be said during the war, when people were looking for all the nice things to be said for our Russian allies, that the Soviet government had never broken a military agreement. That statement seems to hold good today—but only as regards military pledges.

The Russian government has broken diplomatic pledges given at Yalta and Potsdam. It has met protests with argument, evasion and delay and, if all else failed, with silence.

It would be folly to assume that the Soviet government does not have a plan of action, peaceful and otherwise, for every continent on earth. The evidence is too strong to the contrary. It would be equal folly to trust that Premier Stalin would abandon that plan because of mere arguments or appeals.

Chamberlain sat down and talked things over with Hitler at Berchtesgaden. Chamberlain and Daladier talked things over again with Hitler at Munich. Hitler made a mockery of his pledges in both cases. If, as Winston Churchill points out, the two men had confronted Hitler with the strength that their aroused, alert and prepared nations might have given them, the story would probably have been different.

America and free Europe love peace and want peace even more than England and France did in 1938, for they have just come through a war whose horror and destruction make World War I seem pale in comparison. But America is wise enough now to take steps to avoid the mistakes of the complacent Thirties.

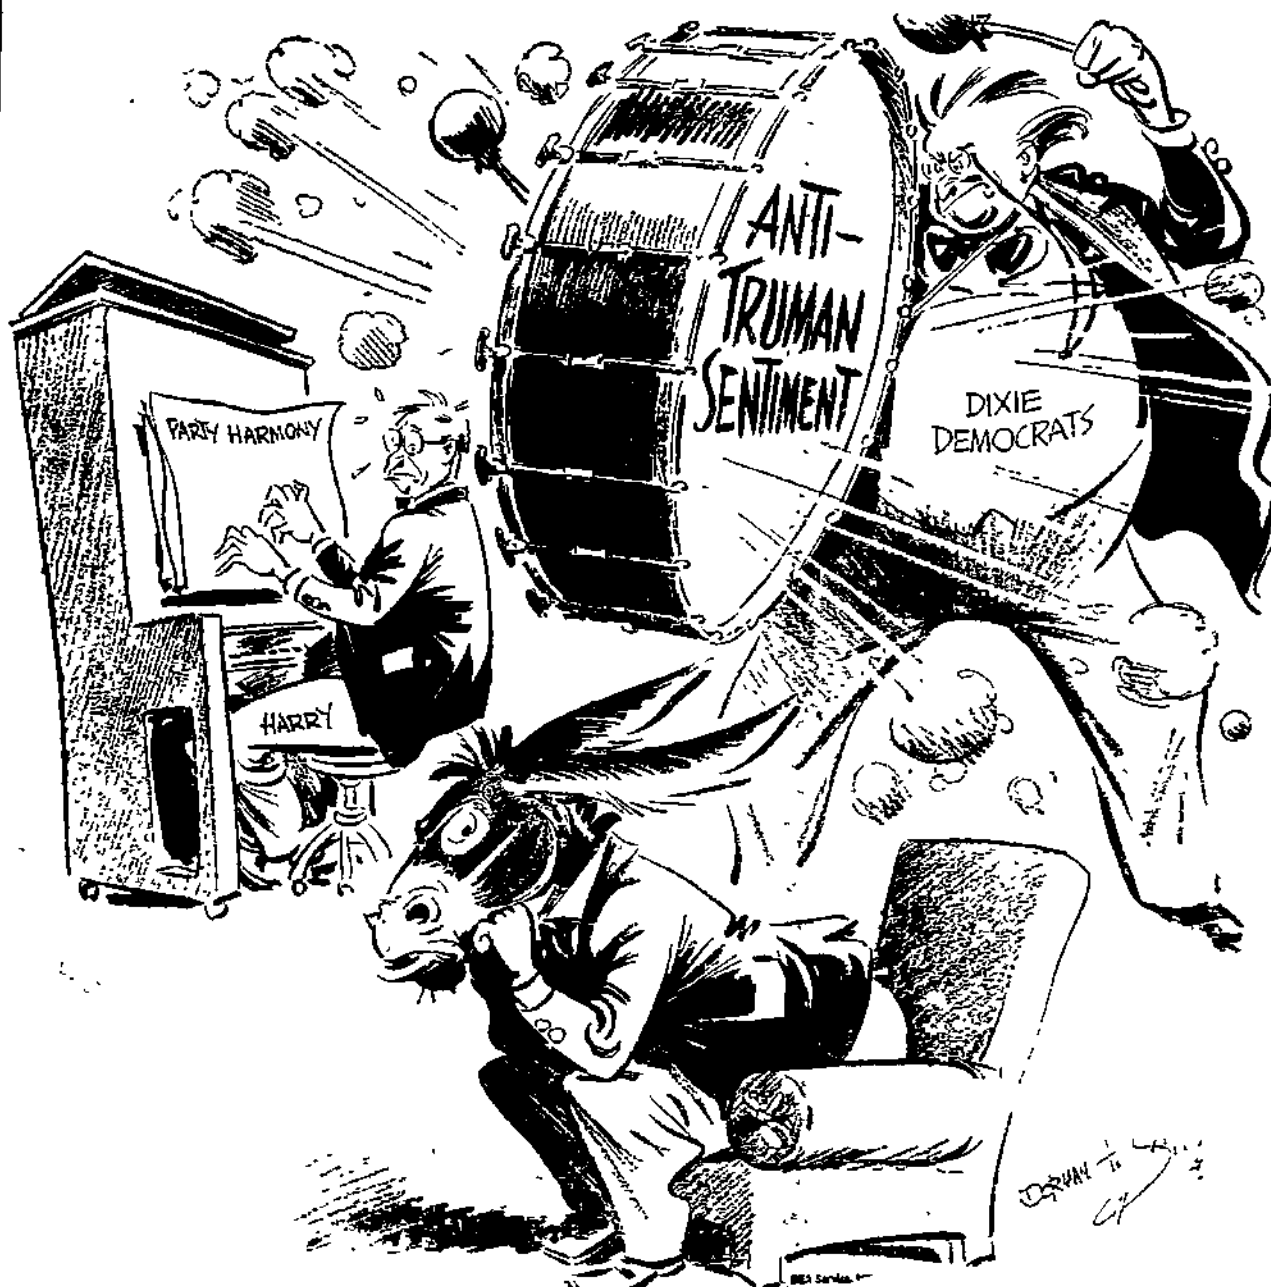

When, through expenditure and sacrifice, we have grown strong enough to make the architects of imperialistic communism pause and consider, then it will be time for the President of the United States to meet the Premier of Soviet Russia and arrange the truce that will be the prelude to disarmament and world peace.

GOT YOUR TAG YET?

Now is the Hour—and we do mean NOW—if we are going to help the Jaycees put over those Cancer Fund Tag Days arranged for this weekend. Members of PAK will be out on the streets of the East Side and downtown business sections this evening and all day tomorrow with their special coin containers and Cancer Fund tags and we'd like to suggest that every individual approached take seriously the admonition that one out of every ten persons will die of cancer before the next year ends.

If you have attended one of the two previous Warren-Bradford Band exchange concerts, you will not fail to be in the audience this evening when the Owls and Dragons present their third annual concert in Beatty school gym. This exchange has done much to increase the friendship between the two school districts and Directors Harry Summers and Rodney Schoch are to be highly commended.

Further elucidation of the American bid for "decent and reasonable" relations with Russia shows that Washington didn't propose any conference but merely restated American policy and added that the door is always open for discussions.

In short, if the Russians have any special proposals there can be discussions between the two governments. However, highly placed American officials say that if the Muscovites have no proposals, there seems to be no ground for conversations.

President Truman himself took a hand in the clarification yesterday. He said the statement made to Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov by American Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith represented no departure in American policy. The present international policies will be vigorously and firmly prosecuted. On the other hand, America wants to make it unmistakably clear that she has no hostile designs with respect to Russia.

Now this doesn't mean that the United States wouldn't be pleased to have Moscow initiate conversations, for she would. Still it is well that the matter be cleared up lest anybody get the wrong notion that America is hitting the appeasement trail. Furthermore, European nations are watching this development eagerly and some show an inclination to be over-optimistic.

Since Molotov has chosen to construe the American move as an invitation, it is possible that a meeting of some sort might develop. Apropos of this, there appears to be no thought in Washington that it might be staged between President Truman and Marshal Stalin, although the former has said he would be glad to see the generalissimo in America.

The value of such a conference is, of course, problematical. It might have the virtue of further clarifying the positions of the two governments. Still it must be said that the post-war allied conferences in Europe not only haven't helped matters but have made them worse.

The only thing which would help relations between the Democracies and Russia very much would be Soviet abandonment of a policy of world revolution for the spread of Communism. That is the crux of the whole trouble. So long as the Muscovites are bent on jamming the Redism down the unwilling throats of all nations, there can be no peace.

The United States government in effect recognized that thesis by withholding recognition from the new Soviet government for 16 years—until 1933. America wouldn't stand the Bolshevik propaganda. Britain had similar difficulties. Finally F.D.R. accorded recognition when Moscow promised to stop pushing Communism in this country.

However, Moscow didn't stop pushing world revolution. Finally along came World War II and created exactly the conditions the Soviet needed to further its crusade. Since then the Bolsheviks have boldly pushed their aggression in Europe and Asia and the western hemisphere. Only yesterday the U. S. House of representatives committee on un-American affairs formally accused the Communist party in this country of advocating "the overthrow of our government by force and violence."

Considering all these things do you believe for one moment that Russia is prepared to abandon its world revolution? Of course you don't. Such a supposition would be absurd. And on that basis any American-Russian conference couldn't get very far toward settling their main differences.

Leftover potatoes are delicious in an omelet. Dice the potatoes then saute them with a little chopped onion, in a skillet; add the omelet mixture and cook as usual.

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

At the annual indoor contest between troops in Warren county held at the high school gym Thursday evening, Troop No. 46, of Sheffield, finished with the greatest number of points and was presented the commissioner's flag; they will carry the flag at the head of all parades for one year.

A large number of attorneys from Warren and vicinity appeared before a representative of the public service commission sitting at the court house Thursday for the purpose of hearing applications for the renewal of certificates of public convenience, i.e. buses.

This morning, thirty-seven days after he lost his life when his motor boat capsized on Lake Chautauque, the body of Milton J. Beatty, well known Warren citizen, was found floating in the water there.

The body found in the Allegheny river at Pennsylvania House Tuesday evening, was positively identified this morning as the boy who had disappeared from his Starbuck home following a fishing trip.

Warren's first zoning ordinance, prohibiting the erection of service stations and public garages in certain streets of the borough, passed on third and final reading at a special meeting of the borough council in the municipal building last night by a vote of 16 to 2.

The Warren Chess Club realized its major ambition last evening when it defeated the Jamestown Chess Club 5½ to 4½ at the Nordic Temple.

Everything is in readiness for the local observance of National Hospital Day tomorrow at the Warren General Hospital. It was stated this morning by Superintendent A. M. Lopez. Highlights of the day will be the "open house" from two to five and the "free baby" award.

IT HAPPENED IN WARREN 52 YEARS AGO

Here's how electioneering went in 1896:

McKinley is a daisy,
And I would like to see
Him get the nomination
And lead the G. O. P.

Nit!—says Reed.

I'm going to help McKinley
Swipe all the other states.
And by and by I'll throw him
The Pennsy delegates.

Nit!—Says Quay

I've always felt we needed
One like McKinley to Come to the front like Moses,
And see the party through.

Nit!—says Davis

Ah, gentlemen, I thank you
For what you've said today;
And you know that I'm relying
On every word you say.

Nit!—says McKinley

And, gentlemen, I hasten
To give you now a bit
Of news, to wit, you're booked for McKinley's Cabi — Nit!

F. C. Trusler's Glade Store is giving a beautiful carnation —saying it with flowers 52 years ago.

In their apartments in the Savings Bank building, the Arion Mandolin and Guitar Club held a meeting Thursday evening. It was decided to give their next concert in Sugar Grove in the seminary building. An order has been given to Printz Bros., clothiers, for full dress suits for the entire club. Warren may well feel proud of this organization.
—and Printz's too!

Considering the state of the weather, services at the First Lutheran and Trinity churches this morning were fairly well attended.
—no mention can be found of attendance at other churches.

Chautauqua program for 1896 lays emphasis upon pedagogy topics. Prof. Nicholas Murray Butler will deliver the opening address with special lectures including Prof. John Dewey and Prest. E. Benjamin Andrews. The schools of arts and sciences will offer 106 courses under professors from Yale, Harvard, Uni. of Chicago, Vanderbilt, Brown, and other leading institutions.

—the complete program is much more seriousminded than Chautauqua today. Music is given only a small paragraph at the close.

Try washing the leaves of palms in milk and water if they seem inclined to be feeble.
—the impressive drawing room of 1896 had a large jardiniere holding a feeble palm!

A hat almost on her nose, a linen gown, chocolate brown shoes and a narrow belt are the chief characteristics of the summer girl of 1896.
—new look 52 years ago.

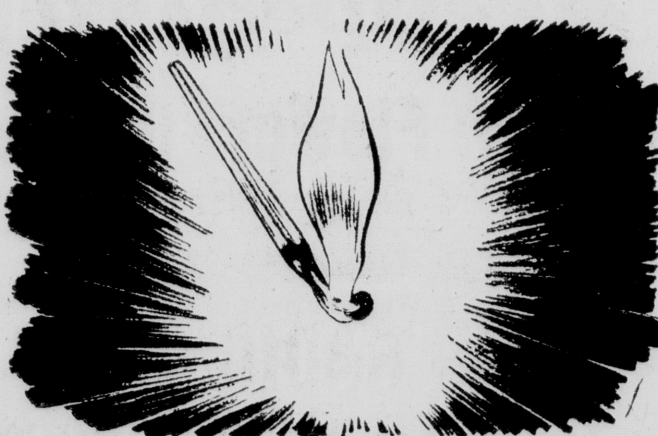

Hammock sales will soon attract the comfort-loving buyer.
—she sat in the hammock and played her guitar!
goes the old-fashioned song.

There is a law against killing native song birds in this Commonwealth. The law if properly enforced would render milliners and wearers of song-bird-feathers liable to arrest.
The dealers are as liable to punishment as those who kill the birds, the fine being from $10 to $50.
—just one way those bedecked hats of 1896 got their wearers into trouble.

A family comfortably quartered in a commodious house boat floated through Warren about noon today. They did not stop at this place and their destination is consequently unknown.

There are still a few residents of Warren who have forgotten that spring is here, and snow shovels, sleds and the like may still be seen scattered about their yards.

Why LOBLAWS Standing Rib Roasts are BETTER Value

Loblaws give you only the choicest portions of the meat with less tender cuts eliminated and with much of the bone cut out so that the PERCENTAGE of edible meat you receive in a Loblaws roast is much greater than usually sold. Read how we prepare our cuts.

SHORT RIBS ARE ELIMINATED

Many butchers take the Standing Rib Roast which is considered by everyone the finest portion of beef and spoil this roast by leaving on too long a portion of the short ribs. Loblaws cut their Standing Rib Roast "Short" (7 inches from tip to tip), thus eliminating the short ribs which are always sold at much lower price than the choicer, more edible portions of the Standing Rib Roasts.
Thus Loblaws save you 15c to 20c per pound by the elimination of these short ribs. A glance at these roasts in our meat departments will illustrate just what we mean.

EXCESS BONE REMOVED

In buying a Loblaws Standing Rib Roast you are not charged for the so-called "spur bone" (heavy portion of the backbone).
This is cut off before the roast is weighed and this amounts to 4 to 8-oz. on each roast, dependent on the size of the roast. purchased. Thus you save 15c to 35c on each roast.

ALWAYS EASY CARVING

Loblaws Standing Rib Roasts are so prepared that it is a real pleasure to carve them. The bones at the back are loosened and the rib bones cut through. These bones are then tied to the roast so as to insure proper roasting, and in order to carve, it is simply necessary to cut the string holding these bones to the roast, thus permitting the bones to fall away. The man of the house appreciates this service.

A generous piece of suet is included with each roast at no extra cost, thus giving you fat for the pan when you start roasting.

Young Research Expert Finally Stumps Famous Sales Analysts; Proves Figures Don't Lie

A youthful advertising research expert recently uncovered statistics on whiskey sales that nearly bowled him over.
Proving that figures don't lie,
no matter how amazing they may be, the self-styled
"Huckster" stated that sales of Four Queens 100 Proof
Whiskey have increased 685 percent. In an attempt to discover the reason for this spectacular rise, the advertising man put his findings to the test, and here are a few of the comments he heard:
"Never tasted a better whiskey. I thought all 100
proof was bottled in bond and cost an average of $7.00.
Four Queens costs only about half that. You must be right;
no wonder that sales have increased 685 percent."

"I'm sure glad I learned about Four Queens 100 Proof.
Thought I'd try it first at the bar. After that first drink,
I bought a 4 1/2 quart bottle."
Everyone's telling the same story, so now the advertising man is passing the word along to that you don't have to be a millionaire to enjoy the best.
At all Pennsylvania State
Liquor Stores, Four Queens
100 Proof is priced at $3.99 for a full 4 1/2 quart. And at bars and clubs it's poured in real whiskey glasses at a price
a man can afford. Four Queens 100 Proof Whiskey is a blend, made by Kasser Distillers Products Corporation, Philadelphia, seventy percent grain neutral spirits... advt.

Youngsville BPW Has Installation Of New Officers

Youngsville, May 14—There was a very good attendance for the regular meeting of the Youngsville Business and Professional Woman's Club, held at the National Forge clubhouse.

Mrs. Ruby Ransom opened the meeting and gave a very interesting report of the district convention held recently. She also stated that Miss Gertrude Thomas, one of the speakers for the Youngsville "International" dinner, is a patient in the Meadville General Hospital.

An invitation was read from the Warren club for the birthday party in June. Plans were also discussed for the annual May breakfast, which is to be held Sunday morning, May 16, at the clubhouse.

Following the business session, Miss Golda Hill, a past president of the club and the district, installed officers of the local group. Miss Hill used an impressive candle-lighting ceremony for induction of the following: President, Mrs. Dorothy Retterer; vice president, Mrs. Pauline Perry; recording secretary, Mrs. Mildred Harner; treasurer, Mrs. Sarah Noonan.

Mother's Day was remembered in a pleasing reading given by Miss Smith, and Mrs. Russell Smith gave a beautiful selection in story form, "The Most Beautiful Thing in the World."

Mrs. R. L. Mead, assisted by Mrs. Vivian Smith, Mrs. Wave Carlson and Miss Nellie Knapp, served from a buffet table centered with a miniature May-pole scene. Two shades of apple blossoms were used in floral decorations.

Hammond Organ At Calvary Baptist To Be Dedicated

The new Hammond electric organ at Calvary Baptist church will be dedicated in a special service to be held in the church at 7:30 p. m. Sunday.

Since the instrument was given in memory of Miss Signe Erickson, a missionary from Calvary church who was martyred in the Philippine Islands during World War II, two of her favorite hymns will be played on the organ, and a brief sketch of her life will be read.

The pastor, Rev. C. L. Wessman, will bring a missionary message on the topic, "True Martyr's Crown." A cordial invitation is extended to all members and friends of the church and of Miss Erickson to share in the following numbers arranged for the service:

Prelude—Agnus Dei. Bizet. Hymn sing led by James Holmberg. Scripture and prayer. Missionary hymn—Give of Your Best—choir. Brief biographical sketch of Miss Erickson, unveiling of plaque, and prayer of dedication. Organ numbers—Vision, Rheinberger, played by the church organist, Miss Margaret Blick; Largo, Handel, played by the assistant organist, Mrs. Clarence Swanson; It Pays to Serve Jesus and One Day, favorite hymns of Miss Erickson, played by Miss Blick. Announcements and offering. Message, "The Martyr's Crown." Mr. Wessman. Benediction. Postlude—Marche Heroique.

Junior Choir Of Grace Church In Concert on Sunday

The junior choir of Grace Methodist church will present a concert of sacred music in the church at five o'clock Sunday afternoon and extends a cordial invitation to all members and friends of the congregation.

Mrs. Edwin Jack is the choir director and Charles Hutchings, the organist. Program numbers will be as follows:

Piano prelude—Prelude from Tristan and Isolde, Wagner. Junior choir—Saviour, Hear Us We Pray, Brahms; Prayer of the Northwestern Child, Kountz. Cornet and saxophone duets—Only a Torch Akeley; Follow, I Will Follow, Brown—Gilmore and Lucile Samuelson, accompanied by Rachel Samuelson. Junior choir—We've a Story to Tell to the Nations, Nichol, with solo parts by Billy Carlson and Jane McDonald; Teach Us Lord, Baker, with solo parts by

Never Too Young

Millions of doting relatives each year are puzzled as to what kind of toy to give a new-born baby. Babies are never too young for toys, says the Toy Guidance Council, but because of their rapid development they need to have their toys replaced frequently. First toys, however, are highly important in aiding a baby's growth and general development. Toys for the young baby should be washable—with plastic or rubber varieties considered best. Fuzzy animals should come later. Wooden toys may be included, also, if edges and corners are rounded and any colors used are of smooth, non-toxic paint. Following are general classifications of infant toys, by age groups:

Up to two months—Rattles or bells hung on crib or carriage. Two to four months—Rattles that can be grasped, large colored beads on an unbreakable string, small washable plastic or rubber dolls which small fingers can grasp. Five to six months—Teething rings with attached rattles, gym attachments for the crib that the baby can use to pull himself up, big bright colored rubber balls, squeaker-type rubber toys, floating bath toys. Six to ten months—Toys to encourage crawling, such as balls that roll away, small wheel-toys that can be pushed around the floor of the play-pen, smooth-surface blocks with rounded corners, toys that make a noise. Fourteen months and up—Push and pull toys to aid in balance and encourage walking and running, fuzzy animals that can be cuddled, nested blocks and building blocks to encourage dexterity, come-apart toys to develop hand and eye coordination.

WOMEN OF MOOSE

A six o'clock supper preceded the regular meeting of Warren Chapter, Women of the Moose, when three candidates were balloted on an accepted and attendance prizes were awarded to Marjorie Lubold and Mabel Crimpenshaw. One member, Marie Covell, was initiated.

Josephine Carter presented her child care and training program to conclude the evening.

It was announced a party for members will be held Monday evening, May 17, at the home of Katherine Hart, Oneida avenue, and a gift of money will be sent to where she makes her home with Susan Zobrest at Mooseheart, her mother, brother and sisters. Susan's father was a member of Warren Lodge, 109, LOOM.

The next regular meeting will be held May 26, with supper at six o'clock. A card and games party will be held from one until five the same day for the public.

KITCHEN SHOWER

A kitchen shower honoring Mary Fusateri, bride of the near future, was given by the Misses Emily Latshaw, Julia Byer, Ericka Wiesenshuf and Pat Sperry. The evening was pleasantly spent in playing games, with prizes awarded to Dorothy Kavinsky, Sally Boston, Frances Jaspersen and Rae Lindell.

At the close of the evening, a delicious luncheon was served and the bride-elect was showered with many useful gifts from the following: Dorothy Kavinsky, Rae Lindell, Ida Seymour, Frances Jaspersen, Margaret Wilson, Marilyn Campbell, Lea Rirardi, Sally Boston and the hostesses.

PRESBYTERIAN EVENTS

TIDIOUTE UNION

Mrs. Frank Dunbar was hostess for a well attended May meeting of the Tidioute W.C.T.U. The devotions were in charge of Mrs. E. Selander, with the theme "We Would Be Building". Sentence prayers followed the scripture and concluded the devotions.

The president, Mrs. F. E. Kapp, was in charge of the business session and expressed the hope that many will attend the Tri-county Institute, comprising Warren, Elk and McKean counties, which will be held May 20 at Ridgway. She also announced the school of alcohol studies will open at Juniata College on June 28 and continue through July 2. The Black Book of Repeal, edited by the W.C.T.U. officers, was recommended for union members. Mrs. A. V. Clinger, as leader, stressed the importance of alcohol education and was assisted in the program by Mrs. H. J. Jennings and Mrs. Gertrude Lawrence.

At the conclusion of the program, a social hour was enjoyed, with refreshments served by the hostess and her committee.

The story behind this extra value is short, and from either a style or a value angle, it's sweet too. One of our largest suppliers quit making blouses until fall, so a few choice accounts were offered the same styles we'd had before at 7.95, now at a price so they could be sold at LESS THAN 5.00. We were one of the fortunate few. Come, see these outstanding styles at a downcast price. Sizes from 32 to 38. A top in value... a top in style for your skirts.

Helen Ross Bride Of Chester Kyler In Church Service

A beautiful double ring service performed at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, May 8, in First Baptist church united in marriage Miss Helen Ross, a daughter of Mrs. Agnes Ross, 222 Main avenue, and the late Bayard Ross, and Chester Kyler, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester W. Kyler, Clarendon RD 1. Rev. Milton G. Perry, pastor, read the service against a background of white glads and pink snapdragons, with all candelabra. Harriet Lind, organist, played the traditional wedding marches, a 15-minute recital while guests assembled, and during the ceremony. Her numbers included "I Love You Truly", "Because", "O Promise Me" and "I Love Thee". Velma Mitchell, soloist, sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer". Given in marriage by her brother, Vance Ross, the bride chose a white satin gown, styled with long sleeves coming to points at the wrists, a simulated off-the-shoulder neckline with lace ruffle, and double lace ruffle about the skirt and train. Her double veil fell fingertip length. Her pearls were a gift of the bridegroom, a pearl pin which was over 100 years old and had belonged to the bridegroom's grandmother. White roses were used to fashion her bouquet.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Eleanor Ross, wore blue marquisette with matching mitts and carried a yellow rose bouquet. The junior bridesmaid, Ann Wendelboe, wore a yellow organdy frock and mitts and carried Talisman roses. Each had a floral tiara and short back veil to match her gown.

Mrs. Ross chose for her daughter's wedding an ensemble of navy blue and Mrs. Kyler wore a blue print and matching accessories. Each had a corsage of pink roses.

Ross L. Ruhlman, Jr., was best man and ushers were Paul J. Reynolds, Warren, and Ellsworth Johnson, Bradford.

A reception followed immediately in the church parlors, where the long table was centered with white tapers and a three-tiered wedding cake beautifully decorated and surrounded at the base by apple blossoms. Ruth Satterlund and Mrs. Ross Ruhlman, Jr., poured. Virginia Guignon was at the punch bowl, Fern Mostert served the cake and Mrs. Alfred Lauffenberger had charge of the guest book.

The guest list of 100 included Mrs. Charles Britton, June Britton, Akron, O.; Fern Mostert, Arcade, N. Y.; Mrs. Pearl Kramer, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kramer and family, Sykesville; Mrs. Lou Dowling, Titusville; Axel Johnson, Harold Johnson, Ethel Johnson, Sherman, N. Y.; Mrs. Merle Weber, Mayville, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson, Claire and Sabra Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Johnson and Jeffrey Johnson, Bradford.

The couple left later for a Canadian honeymoon, to be at home after May 18 at 222 Main avenue. For traveling, the bride chose a gray-beige wool crepe suit, with brown accessories and the white rose corsage from her bouquet.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kyler are graduates of the local high school. The bride is employed by the New Process Company; the bridegroom, who graduated from Coyne Electrical School in Chicago, works for the Solar Electric Company. The bride's mother entertained the bridal party at her home following the rehearsal and those who entertained previously were Mrs. William Tunall and Mrs. John Dickinson, Mrs. Vance Ross, Mrs. Grover Lind and Miss Harriet Lind, Mrs. Chester Kyler, Sr., officers of the Eastern Star, the accounting department of the New Process Company, with a dinner party at the Carver Hotel, Mrs. Russell Budd and Mrs. Oliver Kyler, dinner parties by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Satterlund and Miss Ruth Satterlund, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wagner.

Community Party Saturday Night Honoring Seniors

"Now Is The Hour" is the theme selected by the Community PTA party committee for the community youth gathering to be held at Beatty school on Saturday evening, eight, until eleven o'clock, honoring members of this year's senior class.

The affair is open to all freshmen through twentys, with BJ Kolpien and Bill Erickson as co-chairmen. Serving as emcees and program chairmen will be Dick Stone and Jim Albough, with Don Wood and his band providing the music.

Other committee heads for the affair are announced as follows: Roger Parfitt, clean-up; Clyde Smith, set-up; Mary Evelyn Hill, checkroom; Audrey Kiernan, door; Verna Knudsen, game room; Carol Siefert, cashier; JoAnn Erickson, refreshments; Eugene O'Neill, lights; Bud Marrer, PA system.

Members of the set-up committee are asked to be at Beatty building at 10 a. m. Saturday to complete their plans.

College Club Has Excellent Speaker

Following their annual dinner-meeting at the YWCA, the members of College Club had as their speaker Miss H. Katherine Smith, Buffalo, N. Y. Her talk centered around a trip she took to South America and the different personalities she met there.

Miss Smith is an alumna of Vassar College, where she was a Phi Beta Kappa. She has traveled extensively in the United States and spent six months in South America. She is a journalist and writes a Sunday column for the Buffalo Courier-Express, "A Good Listener". She speaks Spanish fluently, also French and Japanese. A capable and entertaining speaker, she has delivered lectures in many parts of the east. Miss Smith was accompanied to Warren by her mother and her seeing-eye dog, Lassie.

Hostess for the evening was Mrs. William Muir, and her committee consisted of Mrs. W. F. Clinger, Miss Hazel Finley, Mrs. William L. Highhouse, Mrs. Howard Lauffenberger, Mrs. William T. Moore, Miss Anna Snyder, Miss Laura Snyder, Miss Dorothy Tiltonson and Mrs. Gregg Turner.

WHITSUNDAY

Whitsunday is one of the great festivals of the Christian church, celebrated from earliest times, held seven weeks after Easter to commemorate the Holy Spirit upon the Apostles, after the Ascension of our Lord. It is also called Pentecost because it is 50 days after Easter. The work Whitsunday comes from an old Saxon word for Pentecost, and has been in use in the Anglican Communion through the centuries. Whitsunday is considered one of the great days of obligation through the whole Anglican Communion.

PENTECOSTAL SERVICE

In keeping with Pentecost, the pastor of the First Methodist church will preach Sunday on the theme "The Religion of the Spirit." The choir will sing Schubert's "Great Is The Lord." The church school will convene at 10:00 a. m. with classes for all ages.

The members of the Youngsville Evangelical United Brethren Sunday School are reminded that this Sunday is the closing day of the Conference-wide contest. The school meets at 10 a. m. under the leadership of James Jones. There are classes for all ages, and the Nursery is open for all little children. At the 11 a. m. worship service the pastor, Rev. H. V. Lindquist, will bring the closing message on the present series on Stewardship. The theme of the sermon is "The Way of Life." The choir will sing the anthem "Lift a Lamp" by Benson. The nursery and Junior church meet at the same hour. All are invited to make this hour a family worship experience. 6:30 p. m. meeting of the Youth Fellowship. 7:30 p. m. Evening friendship service. An evangelistic service with a good song service, special music and sermon by the pastor on the theme "I am the True Vine." Monday, 7:30, Boy Scout meeting. Closing meeting of the Leadership Training School at 8:00 p. m., Wednesday. 2:30 p. m. meeting of the Martha Workers Class. 7:30 p. m. prayer meetings. 8:35, choir rehearsal. Thursday, 7:30 p. m. Girl's Missionary Guild. Truth Seekers Class meeting.

For the third in his series of special sermons on "Conversion—Its Meaning and Worth," Rev. J. C. Wygant will preach on "The Conversion of a Very Evil Man" at the Sunday morning worship service in First Evangelical United Brethren church.

At the Bethel Evangelical United Brethren church Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, church school will be held with classes for all ages. At the 11 o'clock service, the pastor, Rev. R. H. Eggleston, will use for his subject "The Empowered Church." The choir will sing "God's Love is My Sunshine" by Benson. Youth Fellowship at 6:30 p. m., evening evangelistic service at 7:30. All are invited to attend these services and worship, at Bethel church.

Pentecost will be observed at Grace church with a sermon by the pastor on "The Reality of the Holy Spirit." The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Edwin Jack and accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Nielsen, will sing "Holy Lord God" by Cain. At 5 p. m. the Junior Choir will give a vesper service. The pastor will bring a brief meditation on "The Little Foxes." The Youth Fellowship will meet at 6:30. All are cordially invited to attend services at Grace church.

On Sunday morning in the Calvary Baptist church, the Sunday school meets at 9:45 a. m. in the unified service. In the worship hour the pastor will bring a message on "Is There a Final Authority on Life?" In the evening at 7:30, the Hammond electric organ will be dedicated in a service which is outlined elsewhere in this issue. The public is invited to all of these services.

Dr. Frank M. Silesky, speaking in First Presbyterian church Sunday morning, will have for his sermon topic "The Battle of the Gods." This service will be at 11

A confirmation service for a class of twelve will be held in St. Paul's Lutheran church at 10:30 a. m. Sunday, the regular worship hour.

RUSSELL

Russell, May 12—The final meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association will be held Tuesday, May 18th, at 8 p. m. There will be election of officers. Sound films will be shown on Flowers at Work, Americans All and Greece. There will be special music and Mrs. Claude Pangborn will give a temperance talk.

The Russell High School senior carnival was a huge success and the Senior class wishes to thank all who made this success possible. The parade was held at 1:30 p. m. Prizes were awarded as follows: first prize, Grade 3; second prize, grade one; this included prizes to the first, second, third, fourth and fifth grades. From grade 6 to 11 inclusive—8th grade received first prize; 8th grade, second prize. The judges were Mrs. Everett Stokes, Mrs. Clarence Akley, Jr., and Pat Perrie. The carnival was held on the school grounds. There was a band parade in the evening.

The pre-school clinic was held Thursday morning at the school building, with Dr. R. H. Knapp of Youngsville in attendance, assisted by state nurses and a clerk. Twenty-three children were examined of the 35 to 40 children who will enter the first grade next September. The PTA committee for the clinic consisted of Mrs. Dorothy Stewart, chairman; Mrs. Viola Fox, Mrs. Alice Whittington. The committee deserves much credit for a well-arranged clinic.

The City Mission of Jamestown will have charge of the Sunday evening service at 8 o'clock at the Methodist church. Joel Sundell will be the speaker. There will be special music. The offering will go to the City Mission.

Church Notes

CONFIRMATION AT FIRST LUTHERAN

A class of young people will be confirmed at the 11 o'clock service on Sunday at the First Lutheran church. A week later, a class of adults will be received into membership. Pastor Rogers will preach on "Christ's Commandments" on Sunday morning at 8:45 and 11:00. In the evening, Pastor Allison will preach on "The Barren Fig Tree" for the 7:30 vesper service.

WHITSUNDAY

Whitsunday is one of the great festivals of the Christian church, celebrated from earliest times. It commemorates the Holy Spirit upon the Apostles, after the Ascension of our Lord. It is also called Pentecost because it is 50 days after Easter. The work Whitsunday comes from an old Saxon word for Pentecost, and has been in use in the Anglican Communion through the centuries. Whitsunday is considered one of the great days of obligation through the whole Anglican Communion.

PENTECOSTAL SERVICE

In keeping with Pentecost, the pastor of the First Methodist church will preach Sunday on the theme "The Religion of the Spirit". The choir will sing Schubert's "Great In The Lord". The church school will convene at 10:00 a. m. with classes for all ages.

The members of the Youngsville Evangelical United Brethren Sunday School are reminded that this Sunday is the closing day of the Conference-wide contest. The school meets at 10 a. m. under the leadership of James Jones. There are classes for all ages, and the Nursery is open for all little children. At the 11 a. m. worship service the pastor, Rev. H. V. Lindquist, will bring the closing message on the present series on Stewardship. The theme of the sermon is "The Way of Life". The choir will sing the anthem "Lift a Lamp" by Benson. The nursery and junior church meet at the same hour. All are invited to make this hour a family worship experience. 6:30 p. m. meeting of the Youth Fellowship. 7:30 p. m. Evening fellowship service. An evangelistic service with a good song service, special music and sermon by the pastor on the theme "I am the True Vine". Monday, 7:30, Boy Scout meeting. Closing meeting of the Leadership Training School at Stillwater, N. Y. Wednesday, 2:30 p. m. meeting of the Martha Workers Class. 7:30 p. m. prayer meetings. 8:30, choir rehearsal. Thursday, 7:30 p. m. Girls' Missionary Guild. Truth Seekers Class meeting.

For the third in his series of special sermons on "Conversion—Its Meaning and Worth", Rev. J. C. Wygant will preach on "The Conversion of a Very Evil Man" at the Sunday morning worship period in First Evangelical United Brethren church.

At the Bethel Evangelical United Brethren church Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, church school will be held with classes for all ages. At the 11 o'clock service, the pastor, Rev. R. H. Eggleston, will use for his subject "The Empowered Church". The choir will sing "God's Love is My Sunshine" by Benson. Youth Fellowship at 6:30 p. m.; evening evangelistic service at 7:30. All are invited to attend these services and worship, at Bethel church.

Pentecost will be observed at Grace church with a sermon by the pastor on "The Reality of the Holy Spirit". The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Edwin Jack and accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Nielsen, will sing "Holy Lord God" by Cain. At 5 p. m. the Junior Choir will give a vesper service. The pastor will bring a brief meditation on "The Little Foxes". The Youth Fellowship will meet at 6:30. All are cordially invited to attend services at Grace church.

On Sunday morning in the Calvary Baptist church, the Sunday school meets at 9:45 a. m., in the unified service. In the worship hour, the pastor will bring a message on "Is There a Final Authority on Life". In the evening at 7:30, the Hammond electric organ will be dedicated in a service which is outlined elsewhere in this issue. The public is invited to all of these services.

Dr. Frank M. Silsley, speaking in First Presbyterian church Sunday morning, will have for his sermon topic "The Battle of the Gods". This service will be at 11 o'clock.

State-National DAR Officials Honored By General Joseph Warren Members

General Joseph Warren Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, gave a beautifully appointed luncheon at the YWCA activities building at one o'clock Thursday afternoon to honor Mrs. Harlow B. Kirkpatrick, Pittsburgh, the state regent; Mrs. Benjamin R. Williams, Butler, vice president general; Mrs. William Stark Tompkins, Wilkes-Barre, past vice president general; and Mrs. W. R. Carlin of Warren, state chaplain.

Low bowls of sweet peas ornamented the table's center and tall candles in matching shades flanked the center arrangement. Places of the honored guests were marked with place cards bearing small bouquets to repeat the springtime thought.

As members and guests were seated, the chaplain, Mrs. Jessie Swath-Girling, gave the invocation. Following the serving, Mrs. F. L. Plummer, regent of the chapter, welcomed the honored guests and extended a greeting to Miss Irene J. Bittenbender, regent of the Big Level Chapter at Kane; Mrs. Robert I. Thomas, regent of Tidoute Chapter; the five local past regents, Mrs. Fred C. Eaton, Mrs. Leon Laskaris, Mrs. Carlin, Mrs. O. H. Baird and Mrs. William Waters; Mrs. Beecher M. Rutledge, of the Darg, N. Y., chapter, and Mrs. Lyle N. Schuler, Mrs. Eaton was asked to stand in special recognition of her work as organizing agent. In conclusion, Mrs. Plummer read a brief but impressive article on "I Am An American." A delightful program of luncheon music was played by a trio composed of Mrs. Frederick Olson, Mr. Robert Sandblat and Mrs. Dorothy Engstrom.

The group adjourned to the parlors for brief business meeting and very pleasing program. Following the routine opening, Mrs. Everett Borg, contraalto, was accompanied at the piano by Miss Adelaide Swanson for three numbers: "Sing Me to Sleep," "Ma Curly-headed Baby" and Schubert's "Ave Maria."

Routine reports were given by Mrs. C. L. Thompson and Mrs. Leon Laskaris and Mrs. Plummer announced the final meeting, June 10. Invitations were read from several chapters for flag day meetings, but the chapter has already planned to go to Coudersport on that occasion, and members were reminded to make reservations with the regent for that event.

Mrs. Leonhart Donaldson read the report of the nominating committee and the following officers were elected for two-year terms: Regent, Mrs. Plummer; first vice regent, Mrs. W. G. Cable; second vice regent, Mrs. W. E. Yeager; third vice regent, Mrs. Harry Granquist; chaplain, Mrs. Gilling; recording secretary, Mrs. M. A. Connelly; corresponding secretary, Mrs. F. E. Redding; treasurer, Mrs. Laskaris; assistant, Mrs. R. L. Mead; registrar, Miss Laura Dore; assistant, Miss Inez Brownell; historian, Miss Florence Shawkey; librarian, Miss Minnie Shawkey.

The state regent, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, was then presented and brought from the nation meeting a number of pertinent facts concerning changes in rules and regulations governing dues, terms of office, the Good Citizenship awards, contributions to local drives, personal assistance in such campaigns, and the state conference to be held at the Penn-Harris Hotel in October.

She talked particularly of the new water system planned at the Kate Duncan Smith School in Alabama and congratulated the local chapter for its pledge of $150 for that purpose. She spoke also of the recognition of the Booker T. Washington birthday by issuance of a special half-dollar, sale of which will finance a trade school for negro children. She urged that chapters collect clothing for the needy of Italy, who have shown their faith in democracy by turning down Communism; and asked that every member observe "I Am An American Day" by being a "Good American" and working as hard against subversive elements as did the membership in the recent war days and earlier activities of a patriotic nature.

Mrs. Williams spoke of the Pennsylvania foyer in the DAR's Continental Hall, and Mrs. Tompkins told of her return visit to the Penn Pines Forest near Tidoute, planted under her regime as state conservation chairman and state regent. Mrs. Tompkins also spoke of the plans for the Memorial Bell Tower to be erected at Valley Forge.

Miss Jensen has developed a beautiful quality of tone, singing with great deliberation and artistic interpretation. Her two groups were very well presented, with Walter Valey playing a musically satisfactory accompaniment.

Spring details at the Warren Conservatory of Music began last evening with a fine junior program by Joan Retterer, assisted by Gladys Jensen, soprano.

The opening group of old masters was played with splendid accent, clear technique and fine expression. Miss Retterer's next group of three numbers was done with beautiful tone and exquisite phrasing. The "Elg" by Philippe seemed the favorite with the audience. Debussey's "Clair de Lune" and Mason's "Silver Spring" comprising the third piano group, were two strongly contrasted numbers: The first, a superb musical whisper; the second, containing every variety of brilliant and sparkling technique.

The climax of the piano numbers came in the playing of Mozart's favorite Concerto, the D Minor, with splendid cadenza by Reinecke. Miss Lillian Swanson, Youngville, gave fine support at the second piano.

PHC GIVES PARTY FOR SUPERVISOR-WIFE

Following a six o'clock supper and brief business session last evening, PHC members held a party honoring Supervisor R. H. Morrison and his wife. Mrs. Gustie Winsler served as spokesman for the group in presenting the newlyweds a beautiful blanket. After both had expressed their thanks, members enjoyed a program of games and refreshments were served.

The next regular meeting of the circle will be held at 7 p. m. Thursday, May 27.

DINNER AND BRIDGE FOR MISS CONARRO

Mrs. Allie Russell was hostess Thursday evening at the Woman's Club for a charmingly appointed dinner and bridge honoring Miss Eleanor Conarro, soon to be a bride.

High prize for bridge went to Mrs. Robert Kopf and the bride-elect was presented a guest prize. Narcissus and tulips were used in an artistic arrangement of the dinner table and white lilies and other spring flowers provided additional decoration.

midnight, and a minute later the Jewish states comes into being by proclamation. A modest ceremony to usher in the infant state was arranged for late this afternoon.

The Jewish Army, Haganah, braced itself on three frontiers, ready to meet the threat of any Arab invasion. Haganah reported Syrian armored forces already inside Palestine on the north, attacking Dan, northernmost limit of the Holy Land of Bible days.

Egyptian forces are reported probing the Negev desert area in the south. On the east, Iraqi and Trans-Jordan troops are reported in readiness.

(The general secretariat of the Arab League proclaimed a state of war exists between the Arab League nations and Palestine Jewry. Syria and Lebanon declared a state of emergency in their countries. Trans-Jordan's capital, Amman, appeared calm.)

"outlaw the Communist party as a secret, conspiratorial organization."

Another provision requires the Communist party to register annually with the justice department and furnish a list of all its members. Failure to register, or false registration, would be punishable by from two to five years in prison and a fine of $2,000 to $5,000.

Communist fronts—groups affiliated with the party—also would have to register but they would not be required to file membership lists.

Another section would deny passports and non-selective government jobs to Communists, require Communists to label written and radio propaganda as coming from a Communist source, and compel the party to report where it gets its finances and how it spends them.

taken out 'into the hills.' A number of men were hurt in the plant. Two of them are hospitalized and several have been treated for cuts and bruises.

"The entry into the plant appeared well planned. We found a round, heavy club that one of the men who came into the plant probably used."

Swenson entered the plant early this morning with Sheriff Reuben Granquist. The manager said a survey was being made of the plant to determine the total damage. He added that none of the damage seemed to be of a nature that would seriously impair operations.

4-H Club News

Summer 4-H activities are getting into full swing with organizational meetings being held in various parts of the county.

Last evening, a meeting of the Barnes 4-H Garden Club was held at the home of the president, Ronald Allen with 12 present. A discussion on projects was held followed by the showing of a movie.

This afternoon there will be a meeting at the extension office in the Court House at which time the program will be planned for the 4-H summer camp to be held at Camp Complanter from July 25 to 31, inclusive. Counties to be represented in the Home Economics program are Potter, McKean and Warren with Mollie Pickering in charge. The agricultural department will have representatives present from Erie, Crawford, Forest, Venango, Clarion, Jefferson, Elk, McKean and Warren counties with W. A. Ross, of Smethport, in charge. Mr. Ross has been camp director for the past several seasons.

Tonight an organization meeting for the Cherry Grove 4-H club will be held at the home of Mrs. Russell Anderson. It is planned to form a sweet corn club. John Smith, assistant county farm agent, will be present and election of officers will be held.

Yesterday, an organization meeting of the Barnes 4-H Club was held with 9 present. Chosen for a project was "Fun to Cook." Leaders for the club are Mrs. Geo. Christian, Mrs. Kenneth Pierce and Mrs. Arthur Irwin. Officers elected were: Phyllis Irwin, president; Shirley Donaldson, vice president; Helen Christian, secretary; Donna Pierce, song leader; Janet Hulings, news reporter; and Joyce Whitton, game leader.

The Lander 4-H Club was also organized yesterday with 28 present. Leader for this group is Mrs. W. G. Lyster, and "Fun to Cook" was also chosen as the project. The first regular meetings of the last two named clubs will be held on June first.

State-National DAR Officials Honored By General Joseph Warren Members

General Joseph Warren Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, gave a beautifully appointed luncheon at the YWCA activities building at one o'clock Thursday afternoon to honor Mrs. Harlow B. Kirkpatrick, Pittsburgh, the state regent; Mrs. Benjamin T. Williams, Butler, vice president; Mrs. William Stark Commins, Wilkes-Barre, past vice president; and Mrs. W. R. Carlin of Warren, state chaplain.

Low bowls of sweet peas ornamented the table's center and tall candles in matching shades flanked the center arrangement. Places for the honored guests were marked with place cards bearing small bouquets to repeat the springtime motif.

As members and guests were seated, the chaplain, Mrs. Jessie Swartz Gilling, gave the invocation. Following the serving, Mrs. F. L. Plummer, regent of the chapter, welcomed the honored guests and extended a greeting to Miss Irene J. Bittenbender, regent of the Big Level Chapter at Kane; Mrs. Robert I. Thomas, regent of Tidbits chapter at the local post regent; Mrs. Fred C. Eaton, Mrs. Leon Laskaris, Mrs. Carlin, Mrs. O. H. Bird and Mrs. Wilson Waters; Mrs. Beecher M. Rutledge, of the YWCA, N. Y., chapter, and Mrs. Lyle N. Schuler, Mrs. Eaton was asked to stand in special recognition of her work as organizing agent. In conclusion, Mrs. Plummer read a brief but impressive article on "I Am An American." A delightful program of luncheon music was played by a trio composed of Mrs. Frederick Olson, Mr. Robert Sandilande and Mrs. Dorothy Engstrom.

The group adjourned to the parlors for brief business meeting and very pleasing program. Following the routine opening, Mrs. Everett Borg, contractor, was accompanied at the piano by Miss Adelaide Swanson for three numbers: "Sing Me to Sleep," "Ma Curly-headed Baby" and Schubert's "Ave Maria".

Routine reports were given by Mrs. C. L. Thompson and Mrs. Leon Laskaris and Mrs. Plummer announced the final meeting, June 10. Invitations were read from several chapters for Flag Day meetings, but the chapter has already planned to go to Coudersport on that occasion, and members were reminded to make reservations with the regent for that event.

Mrs. Leonhart Donaldson read the report of the nominating committee and the following officers were elected for two-year terms: Regent, Mrs. Plummer; first vice regent, Mrs. W. G. Cable; second vice regent, Mrs. W. E. Yeager; third vice regent, Mrs. Harry Granquist; chaplain, Mrs. Gilling; recording secretary, Mrs. M. A. Connelly; corresponding secretary, Mrs. F. E. Redding; treasurer, Mrs. Laskaris; assistant, Mrs. R. L. Mead; registrar, Miss Laura DeForest; assistant, Miss Inez Brownell; historian, Miss Florence Shawkey; librarian, Miss Minnie Shawkey.

The state regent, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, was then presented and brought from the nation meeting a number of pertinent facts concerning changes in rules and regulations governing dues, terms of office, the Good Citizenship awards, contributions to local drives, personal assistance in such campaigns, and the state conference to be held at the Penn-Harris Hotel in October.

She talked particularly of the new water system planned at the Kate Duncan Smith School in Alabama and congratulated the local chapter for its pledge of $150 for that purpose. She spoke also of the recognition of the Booker T. Washington birthday by issuance of a special half-dollar, sale of which will finance a trade school for negro children. She urged that chapters collect clothing for the needy of Italy, who have shown their faith in democracy by turning down Communism; and asked that every member observe "I Am An American Day" by being a "good American" and working as hard against subversive elements as did the membership in the recent war days and earlier activities of a patriotic nature.

Mrs. Williams spoke of the Pennsylvania foyer in the DAR's Continental Hall, and Mrs. Tompkins told of her return visit to the Penny Pines Forest near Tidbits, planted under her regime as state conservation chairman and state regent. Mrs. Tompkins also spoke of the plans for the Memorial Bell Tower to be erected at Valley Forge.

Miss Jensen has developed a beautiful quality of tone, singing with great deliberation and artistic interpretation. Her two groups were very well presented, with Walter Watley playing a musically satisfactory accompaniment.

midnight, and a minute later the Jewish states comes into being by proclamation. A modest ceremony to usher in the infant state was arranged for late this afternoon.

The Jewish Army, Haganah, braced itself on three frontiers, ready to meet the threat of any Arab invasion. Haganah reported Syrian armored forces already inside Palestine on the north, attacking Dan, northernmost limit of the Holy Land of Bible days. Egyptian forces are reported probing the Negev desert area in the south. On the east, Iraq and Trans-Jordan troops are reported in readiness.

"outlaw the Communist party as a secret, conspiratorial organization."

Another provision requires the Communist party to register annually with the justice department and turn in a list of all its members. Failure to register, or false registration, would be punishable by from two to five years in prison and a fine of $2,000 to $5,000.

Communist fronts—groups affiliated with the party—also would have to register but they would not be required to file membership lists.

Another section would deny passports and non-selective government jobs to Communists, require Communists to label written and radio propaganda as coming from a Communist source, and compel the party to report where it gets its finances and how it spends them.

taken out "into the hills." A number of men were hurt in the plant. Two of them are hospitalized and several have been treated for cuts and bruises.

The entry into the plant appeared well planned. We found a round, heavy club that one of the men who came into the plant probably used.

Swenson entered the plant early this morning with Sheriff Reuben Granquist. The manager said a survey was being made of the plant to determine the total damage. He added that none of the damage seemed to be of a nature that would seriously impair operations.

4-H Club News

Summer 4-H activities are getting into full swing with organizational meetings being held in various parts of the county.

Last evening, a meeting of the Barnes 4-H Garden Club was held at the home of the president, Ronald Allen with 12 present. A large group on projects was held followed by the showing of a movie.

This afternoon there will be a meeting at the extension office in the Court House at which time the program will be planned for the 4-H summer camp to be held at Camp Campplanter from July 25 to 31, inclusive. Courses to be represented in the Home Economics program are Potter, McKean and Warren with Mollie Pickering in charge. The agricultural department will have representatives present from Erie, Crawford, Forest, Venango, Clarion, Jefferson, Elk, McKean and Warren counties with W. A. Ross of Smithport, in charge. Mr. Ross has been camp director for the past several seasons.

Tonight an organization meeting for the Cherry Grove 4-H club will be held at the home of Mrs. Russell Anderson. It is planned to form a sweet corn club. John Smith, assistant county farm agent, will be present and election of officers will be held.

Yesterday, an organization meeting of the Barnes 4-H Club was held with 9 present. Chosen for a project was "Fun to Cook". Leaders for the club are Mrs. Geo. Christian, Mrs. Kenneth Pierce and Mrs. Arthur Irwin. Officers elected were: Phyllis Irwin, president; Shirlen Donaldson, vice president; Helen Christian, secretary; Donna Pierce, song leader; Janet Hulings, news reporter; and Joyce Whitton, game leader.

The Lander 4-H Club was also organized yesterday with 23 present. Leader for this group is Mrs. W. G. Lyons, and "Fun to Cook" was also chosen as the project. The first regular meetings of the last two named clubs will be held on June first.

Chapter 15

SOPHE asked Johnson to eat breakfast with them and he accepted with alacrity, evidently feeling quakes about usurping Mann's place at the head of the tale. Even though his presence as a reminder that the house was under guard, his friendliness and interesting conversation took the minds of those present off the murder.

Jul, stared at him rapidly as though she understood his technical descriptions of bats spinning and galls. Vince was sure it was intense.

"Oh, Sim had quite a collection in his tackle box in the best case, Mr. Johnson, perhaps you'd like to look them over?" she suggested.

Johnson shot her one of his rare smiles. "In your company that could be a pleasure Miss Mann."

"Jul—I'll take a rain check, though, business before pleasure." His smile vanished. "It will be necessary to fingerprint everyone."

"We're to be treated like criminals?" Sonia demanded plaintively.

"Only because someone around here is a criminal. If you have nothing to hide then answering a few questions should not be difficult."

The sarcastic tone had crept back in Johnson's voice and they were all silent for a moment, the Dr. Palmer's ready tenor broke the stillness.

"Mr. Johnson, isn't it possible that some stranger entered the room and was overheard by Simon and stabbed him when he started to investigate?"

"Possible but not probable, in fact I have evidence to the contrary may I say I feel very fortunate that Commander Bonny is here to advise me. He had more experience with this type of case than I have."

With pair of eyes became instantly hostile but it was Julie who uttered the sudden antagonism.

Commander Bonny a detective. This is a surprise! You've conducted your little masquerade very well, sir—Congratulations!"

AS they heard the car began the long ascent to the main road, Johnson turned to Vince. "All right Bonny, let's have it."

"Where are the others?" Vince parried to arrange his thoughts.

"That Doravon couple, Dukane and Palmer have settled down in the living room. Madam Deveraux went for a walk with Warner. I hope he has sense enough not to get in front of her."

"Aren't you maligning the girl?" Vince chuckled.

"No, and I'm not making the mistake of underestimating her either."

Johnson was studying him carefully. His narrowed, "Look here, Bonny, I thought that the people were all strangled to you. Haven't you a rather misplaced sense of loyalty?"

"Not towards them. Towards Hugh Mannley, he does that to you."

"Did you say Hugh Mannley?" Johnson's blond eyebrows rose.

Vince told him then and when he finished the investigator's expression was bleak. "So they're all in on this together," he muttered and stood up. "I want to see that room, Bonny."

Hugh's door was locked as they had expected but Johnson produced a skeleton key and they stepped inside. There was no occupant.

"Is this the same room?" he demanded.

Vince swallowed. "It is and it isn't, Johnson. Bonny, if this is your idea of a practical joke—I'm the anger in his voice brought him a damnable thing, this room. Gone was the spool bed he had seen yesterday, in its place an antique love seat reigned. The cage of mice, the boy's books, the mechanical toys had disappeared and were succeeded by plain straight-backed chairs and a se-date kidney desk. Only the massive wardrobe remained.

It was exactly the sort of setting one might expect to find in the private sitting room of Miss Sophie Mannley. Vince swore softly.

Jaycees Consider Concert Music As Project For Club

The Board of Directors of the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce at their May meeting last evening recommended to the Jaycee membership that it adopt a concert music project as planned by a Junior Chamber Music Committee.

If the Jaycee membership approves the directors' recommendation next week at its regular session, then the music committee will go ahead with its plans to stage a subscription campaign this second week of June.

The committee, headed by Fred Thompson and Stephen Stoops, has already had several meetings and has been negotiating with the National Council and Artists Corporation in New York.

The committee states that the project would be carried out only with community support and only if the seating capacity of the Woman's club is a complete sell-out. If the drive for memberships in the concert sale is a success, the Jaycees promise to present Warren with at least three first class artist recitals in the winter of 1948-49.

It was learned last night that Warren will be paid a great honor this month when the Vice President of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce comes to our community. According to present plans, George Baird, of Shreveport, La., will be here Tuesday, May 25th and the local Jun-

SENTENCES GIVEN
Judge Allison D. Wade yesterday sentenced two offenders. Robert Hadley, charged with drunken driving, was sentenced to a fine of $100 and costs of prosecution and ten days in Warren county jail. Certification of the record to Harrisburg will also be made for operator's license suspension proceedings. Robert Brover was given a fine of $15 and costs and 14 days in Warren county jail on a charge of larceny. Restitution of the stolen goods, a car radio, was made.

INVESTIGATION
Corporal Holmes of the state police, and Deputy Sheriff S. E. Seacor spent yesterday investigating the alleged theft of a Clark drilling engine with a value of $600. The engine was reported stolen in Mead township by the J. and C. Oil Company, of Bolivar, N. Y. Investigation revealed that there was some question as to ownership of the machine, and that it had been sold to a junk man by one of the parties claiming ownership. Frank and Roy Miller, of Farmer's Valley, are the other participants in the case. No arrests have been made.

QUICK ARREST
Following a report to police yesterday by a Corry man that an alleged car thief was going through automobiles parked on the Hickory street bridge, headquarters made contact with the police radio car and Officers Park and Musante within a few minutes picked up Miner Harris, of Stoneham. Harris had in his possession at the time of his arrest an army blanket which it is thought was taken from one of the cars. He was brought to the police station and will be charged with larceny. Harris is reputed to be employed by a Warren furniture factory.

A simple corn pudding is made by combining two beaten eggs with two cups of milk, one cup of soft bread crumbs and one No. 2 can (2 1/2 cups) of cream-style corn plus a dash of salt and pepper. It is then baked in a moderate oven until firm, about 1 1/2 hours. This dish will serve four to six.

The word "tulip" is derived from the Turkish word "turban".

Confiscated Sedan Will Be Sold By State

The 1947 DeSota sedan which was confiscated by the commonwealth the latter part of September as part of a fine against a Clarion county resident for an alleged violation of the state game laws, will be placed on public sale at 10:30 a. m. Saturday, in Harrisburg, according to announcement made by the Pennsylvania Game Commission.

In addition to the confiscation of the automobile, the alleged violator received a fine of $400 and the loss of his .303 calibre Savage rifle. The fine is believed to be the heaviest ever imposed by the state game commission in northwestern Pennsylvania, against any resident of the area. It also is believed to be the first time that an automobile of a resident of this district was confiscated by the state, although it has occurred in other sections of the commonwealth.

With the Clarion county hunter at the time he was alleged to have committed the offense were two other Clarion county residents, who received fines of $300 a piece, also for alleged violation of the state game laws.

The fines were appealed in the Warren county courts, but the decision of the justice of the peace in Tionesta who imposed the stiff fines was upheld by the higher court.

Many Cases On Docket For Court Term

Following an unusually busy week with the May term of criminal court, another busy week of civil court is scheduled to begin at 10 o'clock on Monday.

Co. Firemen Entertained at Sugar Grove

Pay no attention to the "side-walk superintendents" and go ahead and get the fire out as quickly and efficiently as possible. Fire Chief H. Swanson of Jamestown, told members of the Warren County Active Volunteer Firemen's Association last night at their May meeting in the Sugar Grove I. O. O. F. hall.

Fifty-three firemen from departments throughout the county were represented.

Swanson urged the firemen to take adequate precautions to protect themselves at a fire and not to take any unnecessary chances. He also described various methods of firefighting and outlined the approved methods of smothering a gasoline fire.

Lunch was served by the Sugar Grove firefighters at the close of the meeting.

The Youngsville department will be host to the county association at its next meeting on June 10.

Jaycees Consider Concert Music As Project For Club

The Board of Directors of the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce at their May meeting last evening recommended to the Jaycee membership that it adopt a concert music project as planned by a Junior Chamber Music Committee.

If the Jaycee membership approves the directors' recommendation next week at its regular session, then the music committee will go ahead with its plans to stage a subscription campaign the second week of June.

The committee states that the project would be carried out only with community support and only if the seating capacity of the Woman's club is a complete sell-out. If the drive for memberships in the concert sale is a success, the Jaycees promise to present a concert with at least three first class artist recitals in the winter of 1948-49.

It was learned last night that Warren will be paid a great honor this month when the Vice President of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce comes to our community. According to present plans, George Baird, of Shreveport, La., will be here Tuesday, May 25th and the local Junior Chamber will have a luncheon meeting on that day in his honor. The directors also heard reports from the Sports Committee, the Cancer Committee and a report of the recent state convention. It was decided that an extension committee will be formed whose first job will be that of organizing a Junior Chamber of Commerce in Kane. Plans were also discussed for organizing a Jaycee auxiliary in Warren.

Report Made To Optimists On Scout Plan

Considerable progress toward formation of a new Boy Scout troop in the west side of Warren under sponsorship of the local Optimists Club was reported at a club meeting in the Carver Hotel last night.

Tom Meno, chairman of the club's scout committee, said the first joint meeting of club officials, interested parents and boys and scout officials was held at McClintock school last Tuesday evening. He said that much of the spade-work for formation of the troop was completed and that another meeting, open to all interested parents and prospective scouts, will be held at McClintock school Tuesday evening, May 18, at 7:30 o'clock.

Progress also was reported in the club's plans for a sports field for children, which will include tennis and outdoor basketball courts and an ice skating rink for winter months.

Two delegates from the Warren club, William Paria and Anthony N. Valone, will attend the organization's District No. 1 convention at Conneaut, Pa., tomorrow and Sunday.

SENTENCES GIVEN

Judge Allison D. Wade yesterday sentenced two offenders Robert Hadley, charged with drunken driving, was sentenced to a fine of $15 and costs of prosecution and ten days in Warren county jail. Certification of the record to Harrisburg will also be made for operator's license suspension proceedings. Robert Brower was given a fine of $15 and costs and 14 days in Warren county jail on a charge of larceny. Restitution of the stolen goods, a car radio, was made.

INVESTIGATION

Corporal Holmes of the state police, and Deputy Sheriff S. E. Seacor spent yesterday investigating the alleged theft of a Clark drilling engine with a value of $800. The engine was reported stolen in Mead township by the J. and C. Oil Company, of Bolivar, N. Y. Investigation revealed that there was some question as to ownership of the machine, and that it had been sold to a junk man by one of the parties claiming ownership, Frank and Roy Miller, of Farmer's Valley, are the other participants in the case. No arrests have been made.

QUICK ARREST

Following a report to police yesterday by a Corry man that an alleged car thief was going through automobiles parked on the Hickory street bridge, headquarters made contact with the police radio car and Officers Park and Musante within a few minutes picked up Miner Harris, of Stoneham. Harris had in his possession at the time of his arrest an army blanket which it is thought was taken from one of the cars. He was brought to the police station and will be charged with larceny. Harris is reputed to be employed by a Warren furniture factory.

A simple corn pudding is made by combining two beaten eggs with two cups of milk, one cup of soft bread crumbs and one No. 2 can (2½ cups) of cream-style corn plus a dash of salt and pepper. It is then baked in a moderate oven until firm, about 1½ hours. This dish will serve four to six.

The word "tulip" is derived from the Turkish word "turban".

At This Point Three Rail Unions Are In Tough Spot

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington—(AP)—At this point the three railroad unions, which threatened to strike, are on pretty much of a spot.
The three unions—engineers, firemen, switchmen—marched steadily uphill to the point where they called a strike.
The railroads wouldn't give in to them. And the government took over the roads. It did more. It got a court order forbidding a strike.
That stopped it, at least for the time being. There wasn't anything for the unions to do but stay on the job, after the court order.
If they hadn't, they would have faced possible heavy fines for contempt of court, like the ones John L. Lewis got for not calling off his coal strikers.
The railroad no-strike order is only temporary. It ends May 19. The unions could argue then against the court's issuing a permanent no-strike order. But it's not even clear they'll do that.
Since the unions have not been given what they wanted, they still want to argue or bargain for it. But with whom?
The railroads are sitting pretty. Their attitude can be "take it or leave it."
Although the government has seized the roads, the companies actually are running them.
And the court order is protecting the companies against a strike.
Secretary of the army Royall doesn't seem in any hurry to talk business with the unions, either. Months ago President Truman appointed a board of fact-finders

'Lifeline' Fight

A decisive battle for control of the Tel Aviv-Jerusalem "lifeline" road is under way at the Arab stronghold of Bab el Wad (1). Reports say 7000 Arabs from Ramallah (2) halted an attempt by 2000 Haganah fighters to seize the town. Arabs also beat off attacking Jews at Beit Mahsir (3). Meanwhile, Jerusalem (4) is still quiet under a shaky truce which neither Arabs nor Jews expect to last.

to look into the dispute. The board recommended:
That the unions take 15 1/2 cents an hour, like the other 19 unions, and drop some of those demands for 23 changes in the rules.
The unions said "no." Over last weekend, as the strike drew near, the union leaders and company people were called to the White House.
Now, one of the union leaders says, at the White House the unions agreed to settle for 15 1/2 cents an hour but wanted more rule changes than the president's fact-finders had recommended.

CHANDLERS VALLEY

Chandlers Valley, May 14—The Women's Missionary Society of the E. U. B. church met at the home of Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Atkins with about 30 mothers and daughters present. The following program was given: Devotions led by Mrs. Jane Gage; songs sung to the tune of America the Beautiful and Hark the Herald Angels Sing. Words to fit the theme, Mother's Day. Topic—Homes—Mrs. Atkins; reading, Mothers, by Mrs. Dorothy Calhoun; poem—read by Mrs. Romaine Griggs; songs—Smiles and Auld Lang Syne; tribute to Mothers by Mrs. Rachel Nobbs; Sentimental prayer by Mrs. Anna Johnson; Mrs. Dorothy Calhoun, Mrs. Atkins, Mrs. Dorothy Gage, Mrs. May Johnson, Mrs. Adelaide Swanson; solo, My Mother's Bible, by Phyllis Henriksen; Closing prayer by Mrs. Atkins; Song—Come Into My Home Lord Jesus. To conclude the evening, Pie and ice cream and coffee were served.

Your home wiring system is like a Tree!

It has a trunk (your service entrance) and a number of branches (circuits) to carry "electrical food" to your appliances. If this trunk is not large enough or if the branches are too few in number your lights and appliances will not get enough electricity. Good light and efficient operation of appliances then becomes impossible.

In many homes, lights and appliances have been added without thought to the trunk and branches that serve them. Fuses blow out! Motors run hot! Appliances give poor performance. The answer is addition of circuits or possibly the installation of a new service entrance.

If fuses burn out in your home without apparent cause, or if your appliances are not giving the service they should—see your electrical contractor. Accept his recommendation for the modernization of the wiring in your home—for today and for the future.

TO LIVE BETTER Electrically YOUR HOME SHOULD HAVE

AN ADEQUATE SERVICE ENTRANCE—having enough wire to bring in as much electricity as your home may need at any time.

ENOUGH CIRCUITS—having large enough wires—to carry electricity, at full power, for the needs of all the lights and appliances in your home.

ENOUGH CONVENIENCE OUTLETS, ENOUGH PERMANENT LIGHTS, ENOUGH SWITCHES—to provide for convenient and efficient use of lamps and portable appliances and to provide your home with the beauty and safety it should have.

At This Point Three Rail Unions Are In Tough Spot

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington—(AP)—At this point the three railroad unions, which threatened to strike, are on pretty much of a spot.
The three unions—engineers, firemen, switchmen—marched steadily uphill to the point where they called a strike.
The railroads wouldn't give in to them. And the government took over the roads. It did more. It got a court order forbidding a strike.
That stopped it, at least for the time being. There wasn't anything for the unions to do but stay on the job, after the court order.
If they hadn't, they would have faced possible heavy fines for contempt of court, like the cases John L. Lewis got for not calling off his coal strikes.
The railroad no-strike order is only temporary. It ends May 19. The unions could argue then against the court's issuing a permanent no-strike order. But it's not even clear they'll do that.
Since the unions have not been given what they wanted, they still want to argue or bargain for it. But with whom?
The railroads are sitting pretty. Their attitude can be "take it or leave it."
Although the government has seized the roads, the companies actually are running them.
And the court order is protecting the companies against a strike.
Secretary of the army Royal doesn't seem in any hurry to talk business with the unions, either.
Months ago President Truman appointed a board of fact-finders

'Lifeline' Fight

A decisive battle for control of the Tel Aviv-Jerusalem "lifeline" road is under way at the Arab stronghold of Bab el Wad (1). Reports say 7000 Arabs from Ramallah (2) halted an attempt by 2000 Hagana fighters to seize the town. Arabs also beat off attacking Jews at Beit Mahsir (3). Meanwhile, Jerusalem (4) is still quiet under a shaky truce which neither Arabs nor Jews expect to last.

to look into the dispute. The board recommended:
That the unions take 15 1/2 cents an hour, like the other 19 unions, and drop some of those demands for 23 changes in the rules.
The unions said "no." Over last weekend, as the strike drew near, the union leaders and company people were called to the White House.
Now, one of the union leaders says, at the White House the unions agreed to settle for 15 1/2 cents an hour but wanted more rule changes than the president's fact-finders had recommended.

Championship Cup of Moose Club Tenpin League Awarded To Cities Service at Dinner

Presentation of the championship trophy and individual awards, and a floor show highlighted the annual bowling banquet for members of the Warren Moose Lodge at the Mercont Outing Club last night.

The 1948 championship trophy, awarded to Eddie Sullivan of Bowling Jewelers, went to the Cities Service team, which took the 1947-48 crown by winning four out of six games in a rolloff series against Walkers Dairy.

Individual awards were presented to the team members, Harry Rose, John Kostyal, George Luold, Bill Tannier, George Weigle and George Yarzabek, while the trophy went to the team sponsor, Cities Service.

Other awards presented by the league were: high average, Pete Petrowski; high three games, Jack Perry; high single game, Eddie Stites.

Brief talks were given by Lester Nero, governor of the Warren lodge; LeRoy Schneek and Frank Foster of the staff of Radio Station WNAE and Bob Moorhead, Times-Mirror sports editor.

Nero announced the bowling committee for next season will be comprised of Gene Simmons, Johnny Waples and Jack Updegraff. Secretary-treasurer Walter T. Kiser presented a financial report on the operation of the bowling alleys in the club rooms during the past season.

Individual averages for the Moose bowlers during the past season were:

Dragons Face Meadville Nine At N. Warren

Warren High Dragons were hoping for a break in the weather today for their scheduled game with the strong Meadville High nine at the State Hospital Diamond in North Warren.

The game was slated to start at 3:30 o'clock.

Old Man Weather stepped in and forced postponement of Warren's game at Jamestown yesterday afternoon.

The game has been re-scheduled for Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock on the PONY League field.

Starters In Preakness Are Doubtful

Baltimore, May 14—(P)—"Usually you never hear of them again after they win the derby," Trainer Max Nirsch said that in April, and it may be a tipoff why he intends to start King Ranch's Better Self against Citation in tomorrow's Preakness at Pimlico. Only the others are expected to be as bold—Bovard and Vulcan's Forge.

Hirsch recommended that Better Self skip the Kentucky Derby because "it takes an iron horse to do it. You rush them down to Kentucky, then race to Maryland for the Preakness. And if you're lucky, next is the Belmont."

Better Self, the son of Blameless Mac, stayed in New York while four other 5-year-olds went down to take a whipping from Citation and Coaltown in the derby. It is important to note that Citation is the only one of the five to start in the Preakness.

Those looking for coincidence to go with Hirsch's words about winners of the classics are recalling the last four-horse Preakness Field was in 1943 when Count Fleet scared off all opposition. After going on to take the Belmont, Count Flyer was through with racing.

The present poor condition of the Hilltop track, soaked yesterday by rain and with possibly more to come, won't bother Better Self in Hirsch's opinion.

"He likes anything," the King ranch trainer declared.

Louis Taking Off Weight Manager Says

Eloomingdale, Mich., May 14—(P)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis had another birthday—his 34th—behind him today and although the years are piling up on the Brown Bomber the pounds are dropping off as he prepares for his June 23 rematch with Jersey Joe Walcott in Yankee Stadium.

Trainer Marnie Seamon took the occasion of Louis' birthday to report that a month of light training at the farm of a Detroit friend on the shores of Bear Lake had Joe's conditioning program running "two pounds" ahead of schedule.

When Louis arrived here in early April following his European appearances he was bulging at 225 pounds with the accumulated "overweight" of nearly four months of virtual inaction.

Seamon's timetable, aiming at 215 for the second Walcott battle, called for Joe to shed three pounds here on a diet of "rest," tapering off into light roadwork, saving and woodchopping. Thus the champ would have seven more pounds to lose after he gets into the heavy part of his training routine next week at Pompton Lakes, N. J.

But Seamon said today the Bomber already was down to 220, a fact that simplifies the reducing schedule.

TODAY is pay day for all the folks who have classified ads.

BOBBING in SPORTS

by BOB MOORHEAD

PLINK! The great Annie Oakley, legendary sharpshooter had an equal!

The world-famous marksman-ship of the woman whose steady trigger finger shot her to international renown was equalled by the late Elizabeth (Pinky) Toepferweine, outstanding exhibition shooter, according to E. B. Mann in an article "Little Sure-Shot" in the April issue of The American Rifleman.

So thorough was the build-up given Annie that her reputation almost eclipsed all other women shooters, and Mann has performed a notable service to the memory of Pinky Toepferweine by admitting that she was on a par with Annie Oakley, said Colonel W. F. Siegmund, firearms authority and executive of Olin Industries, Inc. Recognition of Pinky's skill by the general public has been long overdue even though it was known to millions of shooters. In the opinion of many who saw them both, Pinky surpassed Annie, according to Colonel Siegmund.

Pinky who, with her famous marksman-husband, Ad, held American audiences spellbound by feats of shotgun, rifle and revolver prowess in forty years of barnstorming, was regarded as the greatest woman trapshooter of her time. On November 11, 1916, she established the still unchallenged woman's record in this field by smashing 1,952 of 2,000 sixteen-yard clay targets in three hours, fifteen minutes actual shooting time. She scored this triumph with a 12 gauge Winchester Model 97 repeating shotgun.

It was Ad Toepferweine, held by many experts to be the best marksman America has ever produced, who taught his wife to shoot. His own record of smashing 72,491 out of 72,500 aerial targets in twelve days' shooting with only 9 misses—a mark which has never been threatened—dwarfs Annie Oakley's best performance of 4,772 hits in 5,000 shots. Ad's longest run without a miss was 14,561.

The day Pinky first saw him, he was a quiet Texan visiting the Winchester repeating Arms Company in New Haven, Conn., where she was an ammunition maker. A pretty redhead of 13, she looked him over from head to toe, then announced flatly to the girl working beside her, "I'm going to marry that man." And she did!

After their marriage Ad gave her her first lesson in handling a rifle; three weeks later she began to shoot chalk from between his fingers. Each time she hit, she enthusiastically exclaimed, "Plink!" And thus her nickname was born. Soon the woman who became, in the opinion of many seasoned observers, superior to "Little Sure-Shot," was well on the way to more difficult stunts—and records.

During the 40 years she and her husband toured as Western-Winchester exhibition shooters, she rolled up one record after another.

Washington, D. C.—Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach says "Working man and his wife should buy United States Savings Bonds to help in combating inflation."

Championship Cup of Moose Club Tenpin League Awarded to Cities Service at Dinner

Presentation of the championship trophy and individual awards, and a floor show highlighted the annual bowling banquet for members of the Warren Moose Lodge at the Marconi Outing Club last night.

The 1948 championship trophy, awarded by Eddie Sullivan of Arling Jewelers, went to the Cities Service team, which took a 1947-48 crown by winning four of six games in a rolloff series against Walters Dair.

Individual awards were presented to the team members, Harry Rose, John Kostyal, George Ludwig, Bill Tannler, George Weigle and George Yarzabak, while the trophy went to the team sponsor, the Wyckoff.

Other awards presented by the master of ceremonies, Johnny Aples, included: high average, Steve Petrowski; high three games

Jack Perry; high single game, Eddie Stites.

Brief talks were given by Lester Nero, governor of the Warren lodge; LeRoy Schneek and Frank Foster of the staff of Radio Station WNAE and Bob Moorhead, Times-Mirror sports editor.

Nero announced the bowling committee for next season will be comprised of Gene Simmons, Johnny Waples and Jack Updegraff. Secretary-treasurer Walter T. Kiser presented a financial report on the operation of the bowling alleys in the club rooms during the past season.

Dragons Face Meadville Nine At N. Warren

Warren High Dragons were hoping for a break in the weather today for their scheduled game with the strong Meadville High nine at the State Hospital Diamond in North Warren.

The game was slated to start at 3:30 o'clock.

Old Man Weather stepped in and forced postponement of Warren's game at Jamestown yesterday afternoon.

The game has been re-scheduled for Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock on the PONY League field.

Starters In Preakness Are Doubtful

Baltimore, May 14—(AP)—“Usually you never hear of them again after they win the derby.”

Trainer Max Baer said that in April, and it may be a tipoff on why he intends to start King Ranch's Better Self against Citation in tomorrow's Preakness at Pimlico. Only the others are expected to be as bold—Bovard and Vulcan's Forge.

Hirsch recommended that Better Self skip the Kentucky Derby because “it takes an iron horse to do it. You rush them down to Kentucky, then race to Maryland for the Preakness. And if you're lucky, next is the Belmont.”

Better Self, the son of Elmelech-Bee Mac, stayed in New York while four other 6-year-olds went down to take a whipping from Citation and Coaltown in the Derby. It is important to note that Citation is the only one of the five to start in the Preakness.

Those looking for coincidence to go with Hirsch's words about winners of the classics are recalling the last four-horse Preakness field was in 1943 when Count Fleet scared off all opposition. After going on to take the Belmont, Count Flyer was through with racing.

The present poor condition of the Hiltop track, soaked yesterday by rain and with possibly more to come, won't bother Better Self in Hirsch's opinion.

“He likes anything,” the King ranch trainer declared.

Louis Taking Off Weight Manager Says

Bloomington, Mich., May 14—(AP)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis had another birthday—his 34th—behind him today and although the years are piling up on the Brown Bomber the pounds are dropping off as he prepares for his June 23 rematch with Jersey Joe Walcott in Yankee Stadium.

Trainer Marnie Seamon took the occasion of Louis' birthday to report that a month of light training at the farm of a Detroit friend on the shores of Bear Lake had Joe's conditioning program running “two pounds” ahead of schedule.

When Louis arrived here in early April following his European appearances he was bulging at 225 pounds with the accumulated “overweight” of nearly four months of virtual inaction.

Seamon's timetable, aiming at 215 for the second Walcott battle, called for Joe to shed three pounds here on a diet of “rest,” tapering off into light roadwork, saving and woodchopping. Thus the champ would have seven more pounds to lose after he gets into the heavy part of his training routine next week at Pompton Lakes, N. J.

But Seamon said today the Bomber already was down to 220, a fact that simplifies the reducing schedule.

TODAY is pay day for all the folks who have classified ads.

BOBBING in SPORTS

by BOB MOORHEAD

PLINK!! The great Annie Oakley, legendary sharpshooter had an equal!

The world-famous marksmanship of the woman whose steady trigger finger shot her to international renown was equalled by the late Elizabeth (Pinky) Toepferwein, outstanding exhibition shooter, according to E. B. Mann in an article “Little Sure-Shot” in the April issue of The American Rifleman.

So thorough was the build-up given Annie that her reputation almost eclipsed all other women shooters, and Mann has performed a notable service to the memory of Pinky Toepferwein by admitting that she was on a par with Annie Oakley, said Colonel W. F. Siegmund, firearms authority and executive of Olin Industries, Inc. Recognition of Pinky's skill by the general public has been long overdue even though it was known to millions of shooters. In the opinion of many who saw them both, Pinky surpassed Annie, according to Colonel Siegmund.

Pinky, who, with her famous marksman-husband, Ad, held American audiences spellbound by feats of shotgun, rifle and revolver prowess in forty years of barnstorming, was regarded as the greatest woman trapshooter of her time. On November 11, 1916, she established the still unchallenged woman's record in this field by smashing 1,952 of 2,000 sixteen-yard clay targets in three hours fifteen minutes actual shooting time. She scored this triumph with a 12 gauge Winchester Model 97 repeating shotgun.

It was Ad Toepferwein, held by many experts to be the best marksman America has ever produced, who taught his wife to shoot. His own record of smashing 72,491 out of 72,500 aerial targets in twelve days' shooting with only 9 misses—a mark which has never been threatened—dwarfs Annie Oakley's best performance of 4,773 hits in 5,000 shots. Ad's longest run without a miss was 14,561.

Chrysler Workers Walk Out at Strike Hour

CIO United Auto Workers surge out of the main Dodge plant of the Chrysler Corp. in Detroit at the scheduled strike hour and begin picketing immediately. Some 73,000 Chrysler employees walked out at the same time in 11 plants in the Detroit area and in Indiana and California.

'... And Hurry Back'

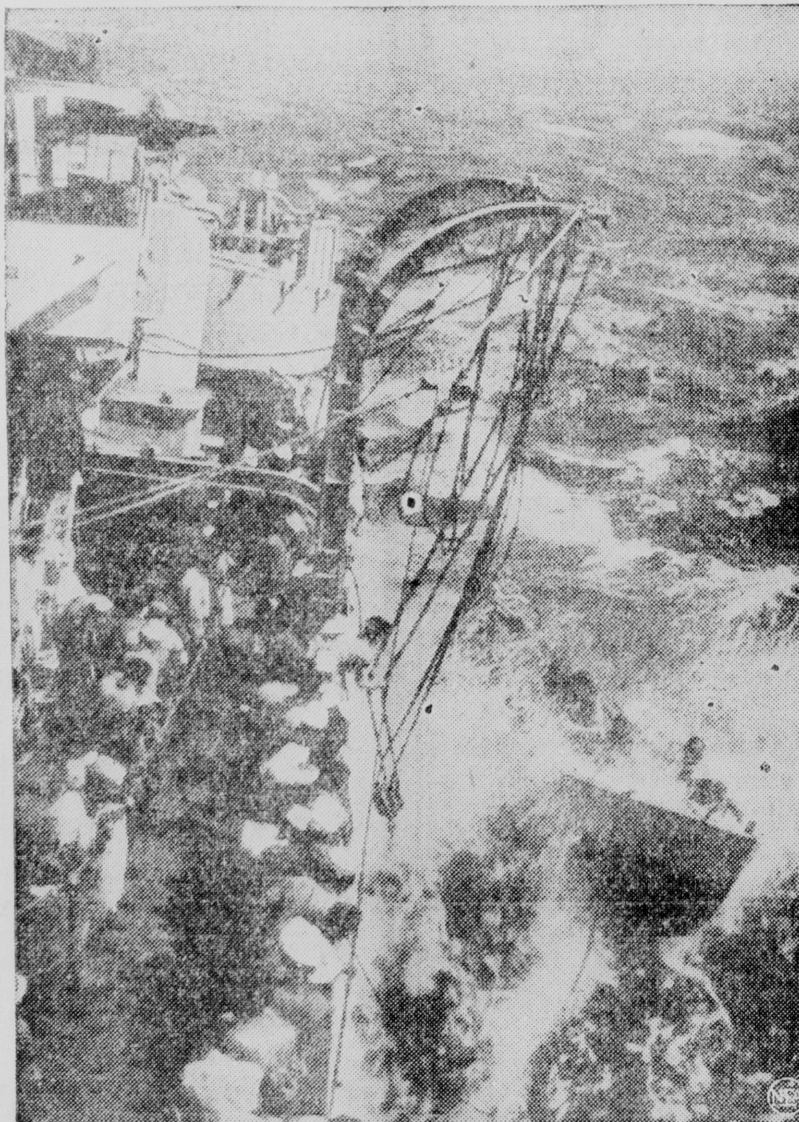

An unidentified crewman gets an affectionate send-off at Castle Air Force Base in Merced, Calif., where the crews of three B-29 Superforts left on the first leg of a near globe-circling flight to Okinawa. The planes will fly to the Far Eastern island via Germany, the Middle East and India. Authorities said the flight was part of a routine program.

'Undesirables'

Because they feel residents of Massapequa, Long Island, N. Y., consider them "undesirable," two Air Force sergeants have arranged transfers from Mitchel Field, N. Y., to Chanhute Field, Ill. M/Sgt. Charles Thompson, his wife and family, above, are one of the families. The townspeople objected to the trailer camp the Thompsons lived in.

Saved at Sea---After a Dunking

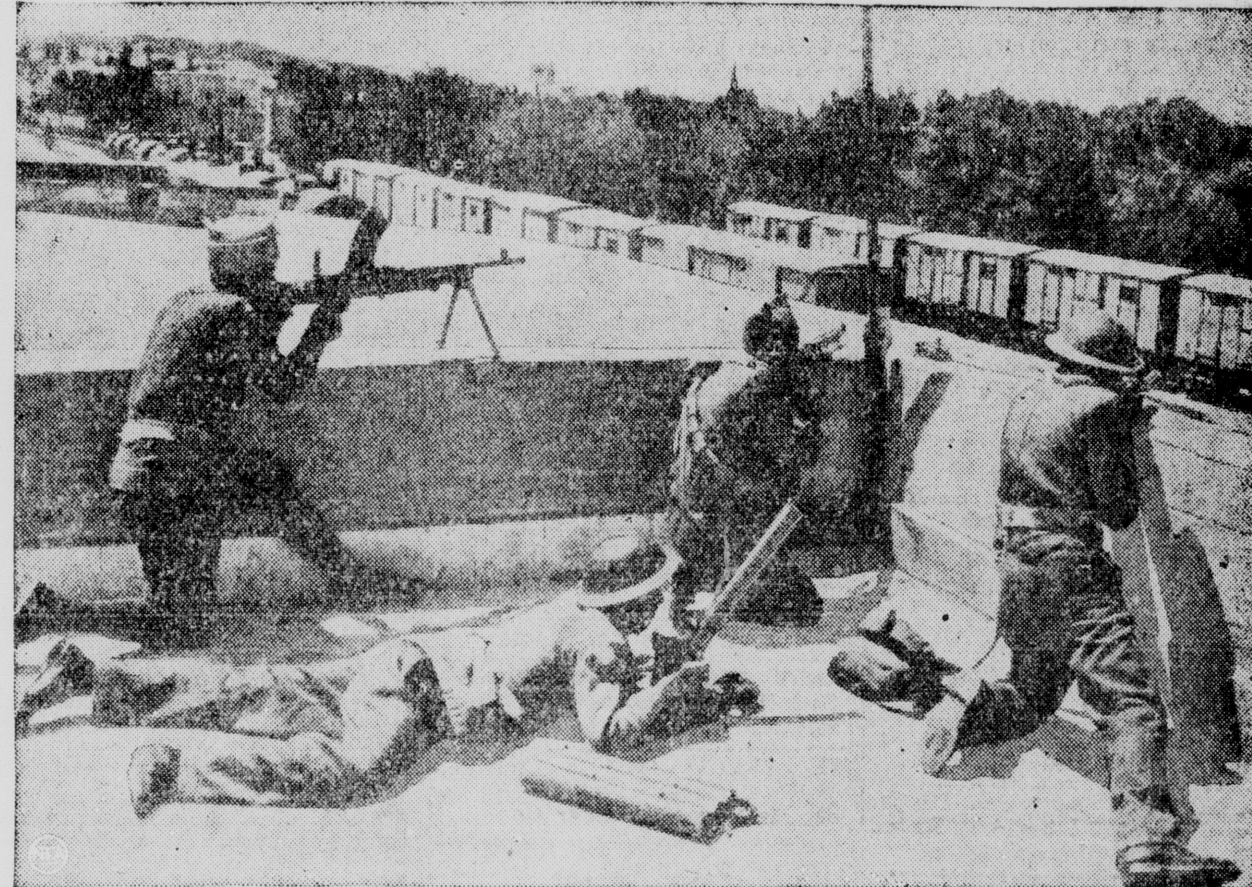

Crewmen lining the rail of the USS William C. Lowe had been hauling lines to lift aboard a small boat in which three Navy airmen from the carrier Valley Forge had been picked up after their plane crashed in the choppy Mediterranean. Just as the boat got deck-high, ropes broke. Airmen and their rescuers were spilled out for a second dunking. All were finally gotten aboard safely.

No Kidding--They Mean Business

These children of workers at the strike-bound Schlitz Brewing Co. plant in Milwaukee, Wis., take over the picket lines. They are carrying signs giving information on the average-size family. Their dads and other members of the CIO Brewery Workers Union walked out of all the city's breweries.

Arabs Set Up Positions Against Haganah

Arabs set up automatic rifle and mortar positions against Haganah troops on the roof of this Jerusalem railway station after the British abandoned it. The positions command the main road to Bethlehem and southern Palestine. Later the Arabs agreed to a truce for the entire Jerusalem area. NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Warren County Commissioners will sell a parcel of land in the Third Ward of Warren Borough, to-wit:

Beginning at a stake standing four (4) feet northwardly from the southerly line of land deeded by the Warren Borough School District to W. M. Robertson by Deed dated December 18, 1908 and recorded in the Recorder's Office of Warren County in Deed Book No. 111 page 611, and one hundred and sixty (160) feet eastwardly from the easterly line of Hickory Street; thence northwardly parallel with Hickory Street by land of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania forty (40) feet to a stake; thence eastwardly by a line parallel with Fourth Street by land of the above mentioned M. E. Church twenty five (25) feet to a stake; thence southwardly by a line parallel with Hickory Street still by land of the M. E. Church thirty (30) feet to a stake in the north line of Inlet No. 278; thence westwardly by said north line ten and 2/10 (10.2) feet to a stake at the north west corner of said lot; thence southwardly by the west line of the lot ten (10) feet; thence westwardly by a line parallel with Fourth Street fourteen and 8/10 (14.8) feet to the place of beginning.

Being part of the same premises conveyed to the Warren County Commissioners by W. M. Robertson by deed dated December 21, 1908, recorded in Deed Book 111, page 247, and the said premises reserved to the Warren County Commissioners in their deeds to the Methodist Episcopal Church of Warren dated June 22, 1909, recorded in Deed Book 112, at page 119, and dated January 29, 1910, recorded in Deed Book 115, at page 53.

Sealed bids for this property will be received by the Warren County Commissioners in their office in the Court House in Warren, Pennsylvania, until May 28, 1948, at 2 o'clock P. M., at which time and place said bids will be opened. All bids must be accompanied by certified or cashier's check for 10% of the bid. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

WARREN COUNTY COMMISSIONERS Alexander C. Flick, Jr., May 14-21-31. Solicitor.

ADMINISTRATION NOTICE

Letters Testamentary on the Estate of Daniel H. Lamont, late of the Borough of Warren, Warren County, Pa., deceased, having been this day granted to the undersigned, notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to said Estate to make immediate payment, and those having claims or demands against the same will present them to the undersigned, properly authenticated for settlement.

Fire Perils Samuels Hotel In Jamestown

Fire broke out in the heart of Jamestown's business district on Wednesday night but serious damage and peril to the entire section was averted by firemen.

Residents of the Hotel Samuels shortly after 10 p. m. observed smoke filtering into their rooms and turned in the alarm.

Prompt investigation showed the smoke was emanating from a section of the S. S. Kresge store which is located in the Hotel Samuels building.

Firemen, although hampered by heavy smoke, quickly doused the flames. Two alarms were sounded as a precautionary measure, thus adding to the excitement as hundreds flocked to the scene.

Fire Chief Rudolph Swanson in determining origin of the flames said welders had been at work in the afternoon removing bolts from an awning in front of the store. It is surmised that a welder's torch set the blaze which smoldered for several hours before being observed. Guests at the hotel were notified by the switchboard operator of the fire and left the building in an orderly manner.

Class Enjoys Annual Event In Sheffield

Sheffield, May 13—Thirty-eight members of the Philathea class, with their invited guests, met at the Methodist church Tuesday evening for a mother-daughter dinner at 6:30. Mrs. Milton Danielson, Miss Isabel Heeter, Mrs. Harry Lewis and Mrs. Arthur Rogers, had charge of the program, which was as follows:

Two vocal selections by Jimmy O'Donnell; recitation, Grace Bloss, two selections, "Beautiful Dreamer", and "Whispering Hope", played by Sylvia Pitt, on the French horn; vocal duet, "My Little Old Rag Doll", by Martha Smith and Trudy Rodgers; vocal solo, "Mother", Marilyn Loomis of Youngsville; two piano selections, Mrs. Louise Davidson; and a vocal solo by Annette Davidson.

Mrs. Muriel Vashaw appointed the following nominating committee: Mrs. Esther Greenwood, Miss Lucille Baynes, Mrs. Ruth Samuelson, and Mrs. Ethelyn McQuire.

The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Sara Silvis.

NEW HOMES

Excavating for three new homes has been started this month. Mrs. C. A. Lawson will have a new home on Florence street, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bowser are building on Oak street, while Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Anundson, will have their home on West Main street, opposite the Highway Garage.

PERSONALS

Mrs. O. C. Sparks and Miss Tina Whyte of Corydon were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Whyte.

Mr. and Mrs. Ebert Lundin, of Bradford, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Harry Priset, to Wellsboro, Sunday, called by word of the death of Mr. Priset's sister-in-law.

Mrs. Leon Carlson, of Rew, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Burns.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Chamberlain and family, of Panama, N. Y., spent the weekend at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Maud Chamberlain.

Mrs. Muriel Neidhardt, Buffalo, N. Y., spent the weekend at the home of her mother, Mrs. Grace Kelley.

Attending the funeral services of Mrs. Noah Johnson, 72, of Jamestown, N. Y., on Wednesday afternoon were Mrs. Ida Miller, Miss Edith Bern, Mrs. Jennie Swanson, Mrs. Melvin Sauter, and Mrs. Chester Graybill. Mrs. Johnson was a former Sheffield resident, but moved away in 1912.

Sheffield, May 14—The Woman's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. C. R. McNeal of Barnes on Monday evening, May 17th. This will be the last meeting until September. Mrs. John Burns and Mrs. Evelyn P. Gallor will assist the hostesses.

Mrs. Jack Cronmiller will be the hostess to the Progressive Club for its meeting Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Anderson are visiting at the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Bowley, Terre Haute, Ind.

England. I have just looked over a new one by Terence Reese of England entitled "Reese on Play." It is a book on the play of the hand that I can recommend highly to anyone who wants to improve his game.

For today's Lesson Hand I have taken a safety play given in Mr. Reese's book. When the opening lead of the king of diamonds holds, West shifts to the queen of clubs. Looking at both hands it is obvious that declarer has two losing spades. He already has lost a diamond and must lose a club trick. How can he condense his four losers into three? First of all he must win the first club trick in dummy with the ace. If he does not East can overtake the queen with the king and lead through the spades. Declarer's next play should be spades, and this establishes the ten of diamonds, discarding the six of clubs from his own hand. West will win this trick with the jack and lead another club. South trumps, then leads the ace and a small trump. On dummy's nine of diamonds he discards the three of eight of diamonds for the discard of the queen of spades. What actually happens is that on the ten, nine and eight of diamonds declarer discards three losers. But only two of those tricks are real losers because one of them becomes established for the trick needed to make the contract. Coffee to be served after dinner in small cups should be stronger than the usual breakfast strength. Sugar should always accompany it and cream may also be passed if desired.

Canned mushroom soup mix with canned chicken noodle soup makes a good first course. Pitted cooked prunes may be cut in slices and added to sweetened whipped cream, then chilled for a quickly-made dessert.
